SHANGHAI NATIONAL BODIES JOINED IN UNITED FRONT

PRESENT SITUATION HAMPERING FOREIGN BUSINESS IN CHINA

Seven Objectives Listed For Home Governments

Shanghai, November 24.

The British Chamber of Commerce and other British associations have joined with the American and French Chambers of Commerce and other national bodies in a united front. It is the first time in history that all these associations, representing eight nationalities, have taken common action and agreed upon a series of objectives which each is placing by cable before their respective home Governments regarding them of absolutely urgent importance.

The joint manifesto states that the present situation is hampering foreign business in China and the continued enforcement of descriminatory restrictions is no longer justified by military necessity and calls for action to safeguard foreign trade and rights.

The objectives listed are as follows:—

Retention of all rights under land regulations and prevention of encroachment and interference of the administration of the International Settlement of Shanghai and foreign concessions in China.

Restoration of Hongkew and Yangtsepoo western areas to the full authority and control of the International Settlement.

Restoration of transportation facilities, including railways, shipping, commercial airways and motor highways with access to markets and mission centres in the Yangtze Valley and other areas.

Prevention and abolition of all monopolies created in contravention of the Nine-Power Treaty and Open Door policy.

Restoration of properties of respective nationals to the rightful owners.

Discontinuance of censorship and other interference with mail, telegrams, cables, radios and other means of communications.

Immediate return of equipment and resumption of dredging operations necessary for the maintenance of Shanghai as a port for use of international shipping.

Recognition and maintenance of extraterritorial status of respective nationals and their interests. The Associations adopting the foregoing objectives were the American Association of Shanghai, American Chamber of Commerce, Belgian Chamber of Commerce, British Chamber of Commerce, China Association, British Residents' Association, Canadian Club, Shanghai Danish Association, French Chamber of Commerce, Norwegian Chamber of Commerce and the Swedish Association in China.—Reuter.

MR. CHAMBERLAIN TO SEE DUKE OF WINDSOR

London, Nov. 24.

The possibility of a meeting between the Prime Minister, Mr. Neville Chamberlain, and the Duke of Windsor in Paris is mentioned in the "Daily Mail" to-day.

Mr. Chamberlain has always maintained cordial relations with the former King and it is assumed that he will confer with the Duke privately to explain to him the attitude of the King and the Government regarding his eventual return to England.

It is known that the Duke wishes to return, and the paper expresses the possibility of a decision on this question being announced in the near future.—Transocean.

CHANNEL SERVICES RESUMED

West Coast Gale Dies Down

London, Nov. 24.

The gale which raged last night around the south and west coast of England died down this morning.

Channel services which were suspended yesterday were resumed this morning.

H.M.S. Royal Oak which is conveying the body of Queen Maud to Norway sailed from Portsmouth early this afternoon after a delay of 24 hours.

Traffic has been disorganised in parts of Britain owing to floods and snow.

Shipping at Hamburg was also affected by yesterday's gale and all ingoing and outgoing ships were suspended.—Reuter.

MORE JAPANESE PAMPHLETS

But Chinese Are Not Impressed

Shum Chun, peaceful and quiet village on the other side of the border, was visited by a Japanese plane not once, but three times yesterday.

On the first and second occasions the gallant aviator, happy in the thought that there were no anti-aircraft stations about, swooped very low and dropped pamphlets. The ones dropped on the second occasion, as reproduced on this page, urged the Chinese people to follow the right path and peace and friendliness would await them. If they took the anti-Japanese attitude it would mean ruin and disaster for them.

Most of these pamphlets were picked up by the villagers and destroyed but we managed to secure one.

JAPAN'S FALL PREDICTED

General Wu Te-chen On Canton

Gen. Wu Te-chen, Governor of Kwangtung Province, addressing hundreds of officials in a weekly memorial service just one month after the fall of Canton, pointed out that the Japanese march towards Canton took place during harvest time, thus preventing armed peasants from taking part in the defence of Kwangtung and assisting the regular troops.

Nevertheless, he paid high tribute to those who had so gallantly assisted and fallen in defence of the city, particularly the peasants.

SPANISH WAR REPORTS

Terrible Raids On Barcelona

Barcelona, Nov. 24.

A bulletin issued by the Republican War Ministry last night reports that eight Nationalist planes, flying at a very high altitude, attacked the centre of the city of Barcelona yesterday at 10.45 a.m. dropping more than 40 bombs and destroying numerous houses. Thirteen were killed and many wounded.

Five other enemy machines repeated the attack on Barcelona yesterday afternoon. The second attack resulted in a number of dead and wounded. A storm attack was made by a single machine at 7.30 p.m. The number of victims of the last attack and the extent of the damage are still unknown.

The Republican anti-aircraft fire hit and damaged one plane of the first squadron.

A communique issued by the Nationalist headquarters in Salamanca states that nothing new is reported from the various fronts.—Transocean.

GERMAN ENVOY BOARDS SHIP UNSEEN

New York, Nov. 24.

The German Ambassador, Herr Dieckhoff, who has been recalled, sailed last night.

His presence aboard the liner was only noticed just before the liner sailed as he boarded the vessel by the cargo gangplank and was travelling under an assumed name.

The German envoy said that he took this step in order to avoid anti-Nazi demonstrations.—Reuter.

Pitiful Conditions At Shum Chun: Food Scarce, No Regular Supply Of Water

Bishop Hall Appeals To Hongkong Public For Aid

MRS. R. LANGLEY, Secretary of the St. John Ambulance Brigade, who recently returned from Shum Chun told a pitiful story before the meeting of the Emergency Refugee Council at St. John's Cathedral Hall yesterday afternoon.

Conditions at Shum Chun, Mrs. Langley declared, were beyond description. There was no electricity and no regular water supply, and food was very scarce. Refugees were not flocking in by the hundreds but by the thousands.

The Japanese, remarked Mrs. Langley, were only 30 miles from Shum Chun.

The Right Rev. R. O. Hall, Bishop of Hongkong, presided at the meeting and appealed to the whole public of Hongkong to contribute to the utmost capacity for the relief of refugees.

Addressing the meeting, the Bishop said:—

Since the occupation of Canton the Council has received three large gifts, viz., $100,000 (National currency) from the National Relief Commission of China, $50,000 from the Bank of China, $50,000 from the Bank of Communications, and a further $50,000 made up in sums varying from $10,000 to $500. This total of $200,000 was raised by no effort of our own, but on the initiative of Mr. T. V. Soong and the Chinese Banking community on the one part, and Ambassador Hsu Shi Ying and his colleagues in the National Relief Administration on the other part.

The generous and prompt action of these Chinese gentlemen has enabled us to act quickly in helping the destitute and the refugees in Canton.

Out of the $200,000 entrusted to us, we advanced approximately $120,000 for the relief ship to Canton. You will remember that you confirmed at your last meeting a sum of $50,000 cabled to Canton directly the money was given to me by Mr. Soong. Of this original $50,000 very little has been spent, and, in view of the cost of the Relief Ship, we have put a moratorium on the $50,000 in Canton, so that we still control and can, if we wish, bring back to Hongkong for other needs, about $40,000.

Of this $200,000 raised for us by the Chinese Banking and Relief Agencies, we still have left at least $70,000.

I ought to explain why they have not yet spent a great deal of the $50,000 we sent to Canton. Through the prompt action of the Rev. N. V. Halward, the Canton Refugee Committee received from the National Relief Administration in Canton, before it left Canton, the sum of $50,000 in National currency. I have no doubt in my own mind that there will be desperate need in Canton for many months and that all the money we have sent, and much more, will be needed to save people from starvation and death in Canton and neighbourhood.

THE RELIEF SHIP

Before I go further I ought to explain, the phrase I used, "We advanced $120,000 for the Relief Ship." At the last meeting of the Committee, which was held the day before we knew that a Relief Ship was going to be possible, the Committee agreed that we would expect the British Fund for the Relief of Distress in China to deal with things outside the Colony in view of what the Government expects us to do for refugees and destitute in Hongkong.

It was, however, necessary to fill the ship and to

BLACK-OUT PROVIDES USEFUL LESSON

City Dark Enough: Harbour May Be Dangerous

TWO FIRES; DECONTAMINATION EXERCISES BY A.R.P. SQUAD

Just as if it were the real thing, as though enemy planes were actually overhead carrying out an aerial attack, Hongkong suddenly blacked itself out at 9.15 o'clock last night. There was no previous warning but, again, as though an air of tension had been prevailing, and the populace were anticipating an attack, lights began gradually going out from 9 p.m. and before 9.20 there was but a stray glimmer here and there.

At 10 o'clock this "Daily Press" representative began a tour of the city streets. A tour is hardly the right word; it was more a series of stumbles. Here conditions were very satisfactory indeed. In a few places there were flickers of light but these did not matter as they could not possibly have been seen from the air.

Police officers wearing protective clothing and respirators were particularly "noted" by this reporter, noted in the sense that he literally ran into a number of these and held conversation with them.

From high vantage points on Stubbs Road, three-quarter way to the Peak, and further, and from the other side of the island, the view was not so reassuring. The city itself, from the air as from the ground, was dark enough, but this reporter felt that it would not give trained aviators' eyes much trouble to spot the reflection of one or two searchlights in silhouette to the hills.

On the whole the black-out was a definitely instructive affair and must have given the authorities some valuable pointers for further improvement of the Colony's defences.

MUSTARD GAS BOMBS

At 9.28½ p.m., the "enemy" let drop from somewhere a 50 lb. mustard gas bomb, contaminating a patch of the roadway intersecting the waste ground to the east of the Peninsula Hotel.

A Sanitary Department squad was immediately on the scene, watering the road, sweeping away the water, and then finishing the job with a thick layer of bleaching powder. One of the coolies, heavily draped in air-tight oil cloth, suffered a heat wave and was temporarily incapacitated. Otherwise, there were no more casualities than the umpire and a reporter, victims of a leaky hose.

At 10.24 p.m. the affected area was declared decontaminated. The S. D. squad had completed their work. Most of the men had discarded their gas masks before completing their job.

Practice Air Attack

SIGNALS FOR BLACK-OUT

Do not relax your lighting restrictions. A further practice air attack is possible. Keep a look-out for any of the following Air Raid Alarm signals:—

(a) The sounding of sirens.
(b) The raising and lowering of the brilliancy of domestic electric lights.
(c) An announcement over the wireless.
(d) The switching off of street lighting.
(e) The firing of maroons in the New Territories.
(f) The sounding of railway whistles.

The public is reminded that the exercise consists of two phases. In the middle of the exercise, street lighting will be turned on for the space of a few minutes and this will be the signal to indicate the commencement of the second phase, and for all land and water traffic to turn out lights and cease running.

VAST FOREST FIRE SWEEPS SHORE AT MALIBU BEACH

Hollywood, November 24.

A vast forest fire which is sweeping between Santa Monica and Malibu Beach among the palatial homes of many of the most famous members of the film colony has hitherto gutted a palatial new hotel and two hundred houses, including the homes of the actor Richard Dix and the director Frank Lloyd. This morning the fire was still advancing and out of control in two separate places, having razed over an area of 8,000 acres of valuable property and doing damage estimated at $2,000,000.

It now transpires that a sudden change of wind saved the homes of Richard Dix and Frank Lloyd and lessened the danger to the homes of other famous screen personalities.

Terrified men and women waded into the sea to escape the flames as the fire, which the police describe as the worst in the history of Southern California, swept down the shore near the fashionable Malibu Beach in the heart of filmland's "gold coast." Terror-stricken cattle, deer and other wild animals added to the confusion elsewhere.

No deaths are reported but at least a score are missing and many have been treated at hospitals for burns.—Reuter.

REFUGEES STILL POUR IN

Refugees were still flocking in their hundreds into the New Territories yesterday, according to a "Daily Press" representative who made the trip to Shum Chun, the one-time Monte Carlo of South China, but now a deserted village.

Men, women and children of all ages were crossing the paddy fields, walking along the railway track and on the motor road, each one carrying a basket or two, some of them even crates of chicken.

They seemed to be cheerful enough though some looked rather worried, no doubt wondering where the next meal would come from or where shelter could be found for the night.

And all this caused by the gallant Japanese!

MACAO GOVERNOR GREETS SON

H. E. the Governor of Macao, Dr. Artur Tamagnini de Sousa Barbosa, arrived in Hongkong yesterday unofficially to meet his son, Senhor Barbosa Tamagnini, who arrived from Marseilles in the s.s. Corfu.

EARLY MORNING CHASE REVEALS HEROIN PILLS

Three Years' Hard Labour Passed On Chinese

Found guilty of the possession of 79,472 heroin pills on October 26 at No. 10, Jubilee Street, Yuen Hon, 28, was sentenced to three years' hard labour when he appeared before Mr. Justice R. E. Lindsell at the Criminal Sessions yesterday. Mr. John Whyatt, Crown Counsel, prosecuted and the following comprised the jury:—Messrs. H. O. Odell (foreman), W. A. Hagen, J. C. Gill, A. W. Summers, N. Vargasoff, Chan Yu-tung, and J. W. Claque.

The Crown's case was that the discovery of the pills came to light through a man named Hui Kai, a pork seller. Hui, following his occupation, got up early on the morning in question and started to walk downstairs to the second floor of his lodgings in Jubilee Street at 4.15 a.m. When he opened one of the doors he saw the figure of a man there. Although there was not much light at the time, he saw that the man was carrying two parcels. He at once suspected that this man was there for no good purpose.

He asked the man who he was and got no answer. The man made as if to run away and Hui chased him down the stairs. The man dropped the parcels he was carrying and ran out towards Queen's Road. Hui kept chasing him and eventually an Indian constable joined in the chase. Finally the man was caught and the Indian constable asked Hui why he was chasing accused and Hui replied that he suspected him of being a thief.

The man was conducted back to the house, and there was found a parcel and a rattan basket. The basket was opened and with the aid of a torchlight, heroin pills were seen to be contained inside. Defendant was then arrested and escorted to the Central Police Station. The pills in question were handed over to the Government Monopoly Analyst and were verified to be heroin pills.

Corroborative evidence was given by Hui Kai, Fazul Mohamed, Indian Police constable, Detective Sgt. Terrett and Mr. D. E. Davies, Assistant Monopoly Analyst, and a Chinese interpreter attached to the Central Police Station.

ACCUSED'S STORY

Accused, giving evidence, denied that the basket and parcel containing the heroin pills were his. He came to Hongkong on October 24 in search of a friend, he said.

Chief Justice:—It is extraordinary how many Chinese come here to look for friends.

Continuing, defendant said that he rented a cubicle at No. 10, Jubilee Street, third floor. On the morning in question he had just returned from a public latrine some time after three a.m. and had knocked on the door of his premises for admittance. Someone opened the door and called out thief. He was knocked down in the scuffle and also kicked. He rolled down some stairs as a result, and managing to check his fall, ran out into the street, intending to call a constable. Somebody, however, blew a police whistle and he was caught. Defendant said that he was born in Korea.

In passing sentence, His Lordship said that in his opinon the Jury had rightfully found defendant guilty and that it was obvious that accused's story was a tissue of lies.

USE OF INVALID CHEQUE

Yap Sin-fatt, aged 24, appeared before Mr. R. Edwards at the Central Court yesterday charged with attempting to obtain a sum of $210 from Lane Crawford Ltd. by means of an invalid cheque on November 18.

The case was remanded for 48 hours on the application of Detective-Sergeant H. B. Dewar.

STOLE FOUNTAIN PEN

Sentences totalling ten months' hard labour were imposed on Lee Nam, 31, unemployed, who appeared before Mr. R. Edwards at the Central Court yesterday charged with the theft of a fountain pen from Mr. L. Blair and for breach of the Deportation Ordinance.

Detective-Sergeant H. B. Dewar prosecuted.

THEFT OF GIN AND WHISKY

Cook Boy Freed On Charges

Appearing before Mr. R. A. D. Forrest at the Central Court yesterday charged with stealing bottles of gin and a bottle of whisky, and offering a bride of $4 to a constable, Chan Chiting, a cook boy, was fined $10 and bound over in a sum of $50 for one year on the second count.

Defendant was stopped in Peak Road by a constable, and the bottles of wine were found on him. Questioned, Chan admitted he had taken the wine from his master's house. He offered $4 to the constable to call the matter off when he was taken back to the master's house for inquiries.

Before Mr. Forrest yesterday, Chan denied the charge, saying that he had bought the wine for $8 from a stranger. His master, Mr. W. F. Simmonds, of No. 15, Peak Mansions, told the Court that he could not say that the wine belonged to him. He pleaded for leniency for the defendant, telling the Court that Chan had been in his employ for 10 months and had been extremely honest. Chan could have had many opportunities to steal things of more value and to get away with them, if he wanted to remarked Mr. Simmonds.

The first charge against defendant was then withdrawn by the police.

Regarding the second count, defendant said he did not know the custom in Hongkong. He had not come to Hongkong for long.

PIRACY ATTEMPT FRUSTRATED

Yip Tai-pak, 38, master of a cargo boat, reported to the police that about 9 a.m. on Wednesday, he was sailing from Tai Ning to Castle Peak with a cargo of salt water grass.

When off Yung Long Wap, in British waters, a small boat under sail coming from the direction of Deep Bay, fired on his boat and ordered him to stop. He refused, and sailed towards a large junk nearby, and called for help.

The people of the large junk opened fire on the robbers' boat. The boat was over-powered and all five men arrested.

One of the robbers was shot and fell overboard.

An automatic pistol, a revolver and 28 rounds of ammunition were seized on the pirate ship.

The five alleged pirates were taken to Castle Peak, and they are now in police custody.

CONFIDE IN FAITH PRIOR

OFFENDED writes that his wife's first husband is dead, but she continues to call her first husband's sister "my sister-in-law." He finds this impolite and disrespectful to his sisters.

If you personally object to this, then she should avoid giving her ex-sister-in-law this title. On the other hand, I cannot see that any question of politeness to your sisters, or of disrespect to you, enter into the question. If she has always been a fond of the woman who was her sister-in-law, it would be doubly cruel to her who lost her brother to be repudiated by the one whom he had loved most.

I agree that much talking about "sister-in-law" to you and your family would be in very bad taste. I agree still further that conversation about her first husband to you directly, or constant reference to him in your presence, is inexcusable. Of course she should do nothing that conspicuously emphasizes an in-law relationship or, for that matter, any relationship.

• • •

UNDECIDED wishes to be enlightened as to the correct usage of the words "please" and "thank you" to a waiter or waitress. "My husband informs me that I lose respect when I use these words in a public restaurant," she writes. "He says it appears as though we were very much impressed by attention that most people take for granted!"

On the contrary, those who are self-conscious about showing appreciation for the service performed for them by others announce to every observer that they themselves have not been used to such service. The true thoroughbred never fails to show courtesy to those who are in a subservient position.

The rule is to say "No thank you," when you refuse something. Say nothing when you help yourself to the dish that is proffered, and say "please" when you ask for extra service, such as, "I would like some bread, please."

If the waiter does anything that is apart from his ordinary mechanical service, always thank him. It is much more important to say, "thank you" to some one who "on duty" in a subordinate position is unable to resent your rudeness than to some one, whose position being equal, can resent it.

• • •

ASHAMED was invited to luncheon by a young man, another young lady was a guest also. After seating themselves at a table the man inquired, "What will you have?" It is against her rules to drink during business hours; however, the other young lady requested a cocktail. Three cocktails were served. The writer believes it was discourteous for the other girl to ask for them after the hosts' opening remark.

In the circumstances, it was bad taste for the girl to make the suggestion of cocktails. She should have left this to the host. A good rule to follow is the precedent set by the host or hostess. And if you will stop and think for a moment, it is always discourteous and unthoughtful to indulge in a luxury which, for any sound reason, is denied to another member of a party. It is a good reason which keeps responsible men and women from drinking during the business hours of the day, and the other girl should have asked for something non-alcoholic.

• • •

DEAR FAITH PRIOR: On several occasions I have dined with a young gentleman in the Colony who is well employed and receives a good salary. Every time he has succeeded in entering into an argument about the dinner bill and once or twice argued about a taxi bill with the driver.

Why is this necessary and what causes these arguments? The last occasion, I took particular notice of the bill and listened to the discussion. He was in the wrong, yet refused to admit the fact and became very nasty to the servant.—Embarrassed.

Dear Embarrassed: You will find men and women the world over who appear to take great pleasure in "browbeating" servants and insurbordinates. They are given full value for the price, yet they refuse to recognize the fact. It comes from an inferiority complex. They wish to be the boss and impose their will upon others. In their usual daily routine, undoubtedly, they must take orders and like it; consequently, when they are away from this pressure and domination they wish to exercise their authority and have everyone agree that they are correct.

Beware of such a person, particularly if you are thinking about marrying him. Nothing you would do proves correct unless it is agreeable to your partner. You could not call your home, soul or everyday life your own; repeatedly the other person would impose his desire, thoughts and will upon you.

Fashion PRE-VIEW

Round The Shops

St. Andrews' Ball—everyone of you are talking and thinking about this outstanding and enjoyable event which takes place on December 2.

Naturally your mind is concentrating on one particular point—formal evening gowns, wraps and all the accessories which finish off the evening costume for this occasion.

The Colony's shops can supply your every need from the unusual evening frock to the smallest extra detail.

A Gown, A Wrap

Go to Rivelle's in the Gloucester Arcade. There are demure, sophisticated, frivolous, and glamourous evening gowns to suit every young lady or matron. White, black, rose, raisin, wine are a few of the colours incorporated in smart evening clothes, outlined with sparkling, richly jewelled and beaded trimmings. Off the shoulder; straps, new high neck and backless formals are all on display.

Besides the gown for the occasion, inspect also the evening wraps of velvet trimmed in fur, brocades or the white lapin fur cape or coat. The skins in the evening wraps are well matched. You will be suprised by the reasonable cost of this evening accessory, which will add the final smart note to your St. Andrew's Ball costume.

Christmas!

When you are in Lane Crawford's Ladies' Salon trying to decide on evening paraphernalia for the holiday parties, have a look at the large assortment of novelties for Christmas gifts. Odds and ends for the stuffing of the stocking over the mantel piece! A general idea of the large group—fortune-telling cards, book-ends, ash trays, smart bottle corks, address books, pencil sharpeners, napkin rings, small odd boxes, nut crackers, bridge sets, score pads.

Gifts galore for men and women are shown, unusually made, attractive to the eye and appealing to the taste of individuals.

The evening coat selection at this shop is very complete. There are full and three-quarter length evening wraps of velvet in black, dark blue and wine red. The coats are fitted at the waist and flare at the hem; sleeves are varied—leg-o-mutton, dolman or gathered. Collars are tailored, pleated, petal style or rolled-tux in cut. One very important idea regarding these wraps is that they can be worn with any dinner or formal gown.

Feather In Your Hat!

Mayo's in the Arcade certainly does rise to the occasion when it comes to finding a bonnet for the outfit. This shop has just received a new shipment of dress and sport hats in felts. Veils and feathers are the main trimmings, though contrasting ribbon is used on a few of the darker models.

Due to the new "up-dressed coiffure," many of the styles come down over the eye, leaving a shallow back where your curls complete the picture.

If you are having difficulty with your hair arrangement for formal evening, Mayo's has demure and sophisticated veils, designed or plain, which can be worn on the head. Novelty sparkling clips, combs and pins are also on sale for decorating the hair in the evening.

Laces, Silks, Satins

The cry in Excella's, Kowloon, is universal, "A gown for St. Andrew's Ball!" This shop can supply practically every woman's desire. New frocks from America have just been received—laces, chiffons, moires, satins, taffetas and crepes in vivid or subdued colours, made into smart and new formal frocks.

Several of these models are copies from well-known Parisian fashion houses. Of course, they may not suit everyone, but perhaps you are just the type.

When investigating evening gowns, have a look at the velvet evening wraps in this same shop. You must go cavorting to the ball in the season's latest!

Fur Wraps

The fur wrap, which is very inexpensive this year, is a "must" in your winter wardrobe, especially for evening hours. Mrs. Willy, in the Metropole Hotel Building, has a large selection of furs from the north—capes, three quarter coats, jackets, full length coats and ducky evening wraps, which you will find not only of fine quality but inexpensive. When you see her coats, undoubtedly you will be surprised and find exactly the garment for which you have been searching high and low.

PREPARING FOR ST. ANDREW'S BALL

Make Appointment With Beauty Shop Now

What are you wearing to the St. Andrew's Ball? Formal, naturally, and your very best you will attempt to be when you appear at the Peninsula Hotel on the arm of your escort in "white tie and tails."

"Anticipation is the spice of life?" Every woman is having a perfect week inspecting, shopping, combining silks, furs, and jewels, to complete her costume for the Ball on December 2.

The main concentration of the ladies is focused on the gown, but just in case you give too much thought to this particular garment and forget the many other accessories, a reminder is in order.

Make your appointment with the beauty shop, now. All the parlours of beauty in the Colony are doing a rush business these days and it requires time to dress your crowning glory, have your nails just right, your face without blemish and relaxed, and last but one very important item, your feet. See that they are given a pedicure and all set for you to dance upon until two o'clock in the morning.

LINGERIE

The next procedure is lingerie. True there is very little to the question, but make sure it is correct for the gown. No bulges, wrinkles or ill-fitting garments. Lingerie, under the modern evening frocks must be right, smooth and an exact fit, whether it be foundation garment, girdle and brassiere, or slip.

Of course, the hose and slippers correspond or form a perfect contrast to the gown and wrap. The hose must be sheer, and the footwear may be either sandles or pumps with garish, twinkling rhinestone heels and brocade, or the solid coloured satins or crepes.

TAKE YOUR TIME

Take time in your selection, try and see yourself as the other "grand dames" will on the ballroom floor. There is absolutely no reason why you should not be smart and outstanding in your formal gown.

Materials and colours. You can hardly make a mistake this year; any material, velvet, moire, satin, crepe, matlessa, chiffon, taffeta and stiff lace are all in fashion. The colours hold equal place if worn by the correct individual. Blondes, brunettes, red-heads, grey or white, all have certain colurs and combinations which make them look like "a million dollars." Therefore, it is up to you.

Another very important attribute to the formal evening picture is jewellery. Certain costumes demand sparkling, flashing, heavy or delicate jewels. Others are ruined by flashy ornaments. It depends upon the cut of the gown, material and colour. However, there are very few of the later. Fashions this winter call for jewels and exotic pieces.

Bracelets, necklaces, especially ear rings long and gaudy to compliment the new "top of the head" coiffure. Clips, buckles, pins and dazzling slipper ornaments are being worn everywhere in the electric lights.

Swirling skirts, or bias cut, off-the-shoulder and halter styles are in fashion for the winter's formal and dancing gowns. Two excellent models for various winter evening affairs are made in satins, crepes, velvets moire and matlessa.

The point de resistance "a formal evening gown," requires little advice. Each of you can or cannot wear a certain style garment. When you are modelling frocks for a selection stand in front of a full length mirror and "pick yourself to pieces," so to speak. Analyse the neckline, does it flatter you, or do you like it because fashion decrees off the shoulder styles? Can you wear a dress without a back, what does yours look like? Is the waistline correct for you, maybe you are too tall or short?

What about the skirt lines, is there too much material or is the bias cut revealing hips too large? The hem should be right to the floor and stay away from trains unless you are thoroughly capable of being worn everywhere in the electric lights.

One more subject to spend plenty of thought over is the evening wrap, gloves and bag. Long, almost to the shoulder gloves of kid are correct for formal wear. They may be white or a colour to blend with your costume. The bag may suit your individual selection, rhinestone, silver or gold kid, brocades, mesh, beads, sequins or perfectly plain satin, or velvet, with a jewels mounting and clasp.

YOUR WRAP

Your wrap is in fashion made of velvet or fur, and the combination of the two. Full length coats are preferable but not necessary, they should be fitted at the waist and flaring at the skirt. Fur wraps are luxurious, styles including bolero with muff, capes, knee length or floor length with various sleeve treatments.

And when you have tucked the last pin in a curl of your hair. Dab of powder to your nose and the final drop of perfume behind the ear put your head in the air and sally forth to the St. Andrew's Ball knowing you are "high fashion," complete. Have a good time!

Some Rules Regarding Beautiful Eyes

Making up your eyes can be the most rewarding of all your efforts in the realm of beautification, but it demands more skill and taste than almost anything else.

GENERAL RULES

Follow the general rules below, and when you look into that mirror you will meet a new set of eyes.

1. To give gloss to the eyebrows, health and character, brush them as often and as well as you do your hair.

2. Use a mild eye wash, either with a cup or an eye dropper.

3. As a make up device of itself, and always before applying cream shadow, rub a bit of eye cream on the upper lids. It gives the skin a soft, glossy texture.

4. Apply cream eye shadow sparingly, spreading it delicately to the outer corners. The amateur is apt to use it too close to the nose and over too large an area of the lid.

5. If shiny lids don't become you, try powdering over the lids. This often gives wrinkled skin a smooth velvety look. Criticize the effect ruthlessly, however, for if it's wrong for you nothing can age you quite as much.

6. Or use a dry shadow, which comes in cake form in your favorite colour.

7. If you wish to make your eyes seem deeper-set and more liquid, accentuate the length of the lids by drawing an eyebrow pencil line across the line of the crease in the lids. If they are already deep-set, avoid this on pain of looking hollow-eyed and haggard.

BRUSH MUST BE WASHED

8. An important thing to remember when applying mascara is that your brush must be washed and kept clean between uses. And its bristles should be firm and of even length. Hold the eyelid up with your fingers so you can get at the corner lashes more easily.

9. After your mascara has dried, always brush your lashes out with another dry brush to separate any clotted or beaded lashes.

10. If your eyes are set so that mascara is too obvious for you, accentuate your eyes with a pencil line, drawn closely along the line of the lashes—upper, lower or both. If the line looks too hard, smudge it to a satisfactory softness with your finger.

11. Or you can wear false eyelashes, applied one by to your own lashes, or all at once in a strip. One of the tricks to increase the effectiveness of false lashes is to trim the individual hairs so that they are uneven in length. The effect is starlike.

12. If you wish to give your eyes a faint almond look, fill in the white line above your lower lashes at the outer corner with a bit of eyebrow pencil, and continue the pencil line out and up. Smudge with your finger till it's not too noticeable.

13. When you're all through with the rest of your eye-make-up, put a bit of cream on your finger and lightly rub it along your brows to give them gloss.

14. Or, if your eyebrows are not quite dark enough or plentiful enough, augment them with eyebrow pencil in the necessary spots. Take care never to draw a hard, continuous pencil line; always use the pencil with brief downward strokes, about the size and slant of the natural hairs there.

Try these rules when performing your make-up and see how your eyes sparkle!

His successor is Flight Lieutenant Geoffrey Shaw, who is granted the acting rank of squadron leader from October 30.

RETIRED PAY

An amendment to the regulations concerning the conditions of service of warrant officers appointed to commissioned rank for engineer, signals, armament, photography, physical training, equipment, and accountant duties, under the scheme introduced on September 1, 1937, provides that the scale of retired pay up to £271 10s. will be as already laid down, but the existing maximum will be increased from £271 10s. to £317 by increments for each complete year's service beyond the age of 50 at the rate of £9 for the first four years and £9 10s for the fifth year The compulsory retiring age of officers so promoted is 55, irrespective of rank.

SLEEPING-OUT PASSES

An extension of the privilege of sleeping out of camp is contained in an Air Ministry Order. The order provides that all airmen serving at home, other than recruits undergoing training at recruits' depots, who have attained the age of 21 years, will be granted a permanent pass to enable them to sleep out of camp, except where the exigencies of the Service render this impracticable.

Airmen granted this privilege must be regular in their duties, orderly in their lodgings or quarters, exact in their dress, and must be available for all Air Force duties." The privilege will be withdrawn from any airman should the C.O. consider it necessary.

The C.O. may also, at his discretion, grant a permanent sleeping-out pass to airmen under 21 (other than apprentices, boy entrants, or recruits under training as such) who wish to live locally with parents or guardians, or in such other cases as he may approve.

On special occasions, when he is satisfied that the circumstances justify it, the C.O. may grant a pass to an apprentice or boy entrant to stay out of camp until midnight.

U.S. PLANS 2000 PLANES EACH MONTH

Washington, Nov. 24.

America's aircraft manufacturers are seeking means to treble their output in order to keep pace with President Roosevelt's plan to acquire the world's biggest air fleet.

At a conference held yesterday between the representatives of the leading aircraft manufacturing companies and Government officials, a programme was laid down for a mass production goal of 1,000 planes monthly to be attained within a few months.

Some of President Roosevelt's advisers hope within two years that the capacity although not the actual output of the industry will be increased to two thousand planes a month.—Reuter.

A bus driver, Mr E. C. Barham, of Theydon Bois, near Epping, and his conductor, Mr. E. Wilson, of Loughton, Essex were each presented at Rochester-row Police Station, S.W., with a wrist watch in recognition of the assistance they rendered a police constable who was assaulted by a man he was arresting.

A.R.P. OFFICER'S COLLAPSE

Heart Disease Aggravated

A woman shorthand-typist described at an inquest at Maidenhead how she struggled with an A.R.P. officer who afterwards collapsed and died.

The inquest was on Major Marmaduke Reginald Metcalfe, 39, a retired major of the Indian Army, of Mill-lane, Kidmorend, near Reading.

He was an A.R.P. area officer, and had offices at Maidenhead Town Hall.

The typist, Miss Mary Jean Savage, of Bourne-end, Bucks, was asked by the coroner, Mr. Owen Stuchbery, why she struggled with Major Metcalfe. She replied, "Because he wanted to make love to me."

The Coroner: Did you resist?—Yes.

"CONTROLLED HIMSELF"

Because of the struggle was he in an excited condition?—Yes, we were struggling very hard. He nearly got the better of me, and then he controlled himself.

Miss Savage added: "As soon as he got up he stood and looked as though he were going to cry. I would not look at him for a minute or two, and I stood by the door.

"I noticed that he was white. I thought he was going to fall, and I got hold of him and dropped him back in his chair.

"He appeared to get better, and he said, 'Do I still look white?' I replied, 'You look better than you were.' He sat at his desk for a minute or two and then his head fell on one side. I looked at him for one second, and then I ran for help."

Dr. W. S. Wood said that the post-mortem examination revealed disease of the heart. The struggle would aggravate the condition.

What Takes Place In One Hour

What takes place during an hour? Probably nothing much would be the first thought of most people when asked this question. An hour, what's an hour? Just sixty minutes that pass quickly when we are pleasantly occupied and never seem to have an end when we have nothing to do or are in difficulties. Naturally, now and then, something important may happen during an hour, but . . . .

American statisticians have carefully studied everything that takes place during an hour throughout the world, and the results are amazing.

Hence, it has been found that during one hour, 14,000 telegrams are sent in the world and 1,141,000 letters, postcards and parcels are posted. During one hour 60,000,000 newspapers are printed and 1,250 marriages celebrated. Throughout the world 70 million pounds of bread, the same amount of rice, 50 million pounds of potatoes, eight million pounds of meat and two-and-a-half million eggs are eaten. In the United States, $2,000 worth of gum are chewed in an hour.

Every hour, 5,440 children are born throughout the world, whilst 4,650 people pass away. A very large number of these deaths is due to road accidents and old age, but nearly all the others can be attributed to maladies.

In this manner, statistics show that 120 persons die of malaria every hour, in British India alone. This malady claims more victims throughout the world than others that are much more dreaded such as plague, small-pox and cholera. The different countries where the question of malaria is ever present have now started to put up a vigorous fight against this malady.

The Malaria Commission of the League of Nations has laid down the fact that it is only necessary to take six grains of quinine per day as a preventive measure during the whole of the fever season. For treating attacks of malaria, it takes from 15 grains to 20 grains of quinine over a period of from five to seven days.

WOMAN AGAINST WOMAN

Timely in its theme, entertaining in its presentation, refreshing in its adult characterizations, "Woman Against Woman," playing at the Majestic Theatre, offers both telling and amusing sidelights on the perennial divorce problem.

A picturization of Margaret Culkin Banning's national magazine story, "Enemy Territory," the film relates the story of a husband, Herbert Marshall, who takes his second wife, Virginia Bruce, to his home town where his first wife, Mary Astor, and child, Juanita Quigley, still live.

The King has approved the appointment of Comdr. H. D. Owen as Naval Attache to his Majesty's Embassy at Lisbon.

Natural Screen Actress And Excellent Singer

The newest Deanna Durbin picture has just been previewed, and the studio seems to have been successful in its efforts to present her once more as a very young girl. This sort of thing can't go on forever, of course, as even the studio knows. Deanna's next picture is to be called, appropriately, "Three Smart Girls Grow Up." The studio in this respect seems as smart, to at least one observer, as its three heroines, says a Hollywood commentator.

How to express, without bathos, what Deanna's growing up is going to mean to the screen is not easy. She brought to it the first musical picture which was not either a rehash of stage musical comedies or a representation of opera ladies such as Lily Pons and Grace Moore stopping otherwise good stories to Deanna Durbin and Jackie Cooper as they appear in "That Certain Age," which comes to the Queen's and Alhambra Theatres on December 9.

I am not trying to belittle the efforts of the Misses Pons and Moore; I have enjoyed their singing on the screen as much as anyone. But when, in a picture known as "Three Smart Girls," a little girl began to sing as if singing was the easiest thing she did, and didn't stop the story to do it, it seemed that the screen had found its first genuine singing star.

SHE CAN ACT, TOO

The pictures which have followed, "100 Men and a Girl," and "Mad About Music," have brought the double-barrelled realization that Deanna not only could sing, but could act as well. To a refreshingly charming voice, she added a self as delightfully vivacious as any the screen has ever presented.

Much credit is due Director Henry Koster, who first directed Miss Durbin's pictures; but still more is probably due Producer Joe Pasternak, who has used rare taste in selecting stories for her, matching the subjects to Deanna's own development.

This is especially true of the last picture, just previewed, in which Deanna essays the difficult transition period between young girlhood and very young womanhood. Pasternak early made a friend of the little player, and even now attempts nothing with her to which he does not first secure her complete compliance.

What will in future happen to Miss Durbin's voice is of course not to be speculated on here. Ask her if she intends to take it on into opera, and she'll reply, "Well, naturally." But press her further about the Metropolitan, and she'll merely smile and tell you that any mention of that probably ought to come first from the Metropolitan, not from her.

COMING PICTURES

Nan Grey and Helen Parrish will be with Deanna in "Three Smart Girls Grow Up," the latter replacing Barbara Read, who grew up, meantime, sufficiently to leave the studio and seek more mature parts elsewhere.

Miss Parrish will be remembered for her excellent work in the last Durbin picture, "Mad About Music." Miss Grey, too, has progressed in her own right to the point of being starred in several pictures since her last picture with Miss Durbin.

"That Certain Age," just previewed, also contained in its cast two other players of the transition age who may now be expected in future releases in more mature aspect. They are Jackie Cooper, former child star, and Jackie Searl, probably the leading juvenile villain of all time. The studio, however, denies that Deanna and young Cooper are to be starred together. Each, it avers, is to be starred separately.

CHINESE COMMUNISTS LOYAL TO NATIONAL GOVERNMENT

MANIFESTO PLEDGES UNITED FRONT

Chungking, November 24.

The Chinese Communist Party, following the plenary session of the Central Executive Committee, pledged its loyalty to General Chiang Kai-shek in fighting Japan and promised not to establish a secret organisation within the Kuomintang or the Chinese army.

The party adopted as its own resolution the report of Mao Tse-tung, generally known as the "Chinese Stalin." The report states "China's internal condition, as well as the international situation, will not permit establishment of a socialist soviet state or a party dictatorship in China."

The possibility, however, is envisaged of establishment of a democratic republic with Sun Yat-sen's principles.

The party manifesto urges the Chinese people to defend the united front and to drive the Japanese from China. The committee expresses confidence in "ultimate Chinese victory."

EXTERMINATING JAPANESE

It declares that "with the Japanese halting their advance with the scenes of hostilities now further away from the sea coast and railway, highway and river communication lines, it is time for the Chinese to consolidate their positions in the southwest and the northwest provinces, awaiting a favourable opportunity for a large-scale counter-offensive aiming at complete extermination of the Japanese armed forces in China."

Publication of the Communist manifesto is attracting considerable attention here since it is generally thought that the Communist resolutions are likely to be submitted to the forthcoming Kuomintang Central Executive Committee, the plenary session of which is opening here on December 15, for consideration.—Reuter.

AMBASSADOR'S TALK WITH GEN. CHIANG

London, Nov. 24.

Asked by Mr. Arthur Henderson in the House of Commons yesterday to make a statement on the recent discussions between the British Ambassador and Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, Mr. R. A. Butler, Under-Secretary for Foreign Affairs said that the Ambassador recently visited Central and Western China in the course of his duties in order to maintain contact with members of the Chinese Government.

Various aspects of Sino-British relations were discussed in the interview with Marshal Chiang.

Mr. Malcolm MacDonald replied in the negative when he was asked whether the interview was sought on the instruction of His Majesty's Government.

Replying to a supplementary question, Mr. Butler declared that the Government naturally would consider any suggestion made by both sides touching upon mediation.

INTERFERENCE WITH NEWSPAPERS

Mr. Butler replied in the affirmative when asked whether any representations had been made to the Japanese Government at the refusal of postal facilities for British newspapers in the occupied area in North China.

He added that the newspapers affected were the "Tsingtao Times," and the "Peking and Tientsin Times."

As regards the "Tsingtao Times," deliveries were now proceeding smoothly except for some little interference which had been brought to the notice of the Japanese.—Reuter.

MAO TSE-TUNG

INVITATIONS TO LONDON PARLEY ON PALESTINE

Wide Representation Main Object

London, Nov. 24.

In the House of Commons yesterday, Mr. Malcolm MacDonald, Dominions and Colonial Secretary, announced that formal invitations to the Palestine London Conference had been sent to Egypt, Iraq, Arabia, Trans-Jordania and the Jewish Agency.

The Government desired the Arab delegation to be representative of all important groups and interests in Palestine.

Mr. MacDonald added that he was also in communication with Yemen.

The Government's attitude regarding the Mufti of Jerusalem was well known, but if, after consultation, it was considered that any Arab deportees should be members of the delegation, the Government would provide facilities.

Mr. MacDonald hoped that the discussions would start within the next few weeks.

NAZI LIBELS

Asked whether attention had been drawn to statements appearing in the Government-controlled German press yesterday accusing British troops and police in Palestine of looting, rape, murder and torture, Sir John Simon declared:

"There is, of course, no truth whatever in this newspaper story. I repeat Mr. Chamberlain's observations that the German Government must be well aware of the unfortunate effect such articles have on Anglo-German relations."—Reuter.

German Fine On Jews

REGULATIONS FOR PAYMENT

Berlin Nov. 24.

The eagerly awaited statement concerning the payment of the one milliard marks fine for the murder of the German Legation Councillor, Herr von Rath, in Paris, was pronounced yesterday by the Reichs Finance Minister, Count Schwerin von Krosigkin.

It is stated that all Jews of German nationality are required to participate in the payment regardless of whether their place of residence is in Germany or in a foreign country.

German Jews whose wealth does not exceed 5000 marks are set free from any payment.

The payment has to be arranged in four instalments, which are due on December 15, 1938, February 15, 1939, May 15, 1939 and August 15, 1939 and must be made in cash.

In cases of mixed marriages between a Jew and a half-Jew or Aryan, only the property belonging to the Jewish partner will be assessed.—Transocean.

JEWISH CHILDREN

London, Nov. 24.

A scheme has been agreed by the International Aid Committee to eliminate delays in the issue of visas to Jewish children in Germany, said Mr. Geoffrey Lloyd, Under-Secretary for Home Affairs, in reply to a question in the House of Commons yesterday.

As far as the British Government is concerned, he said, educational facilities would be granted under care of the committee.—Reuter.

KING'S SYMPATHY TO LANDSLIDE SUFFERERS

London, Nov. 24.

At the command of the King the Colonial Secretary has sent a telegram to the Governor of the Windward Islands, conveying His Majesty's profound regret at Monday's disastrous landslide in Santa Lucia and sincere sympathy with the sufferers and their relatives as well as the people in the Colony as a whole.—British Wireless.

CATHOLIC APPOINTMENT TO BRITAIN

London, Nov. 24.

It was announced in Vatican City yesterday that Monsignor William Godfrey, Rector of the English College in Rome, has been appointed Delegate Apostolic to Great Britain, with residence in England.

Monsignor Godfrey was a member of the Papal delegation at the Coronation last year. Born in Liverpool in 1889, he became a priest in 1916 and is a member of the Supreme Council for the Propagation of the Faith. It is expected that he will be nominated titular Archbishop before coming to the United Kingdom in January.

It is explained in Vatican City that the position Monsignor Godfrey assumes is of ecclesiastical importance in the representation of the Pope to British Catholics, but he will not have diplomatic status nor be entrusted with a diplomatic mission. Nevertheless, although the appointment is purely clerical, Vatican circles, it is reported, are hopeful that it will contribute to the maintenance of good relations with Great Britain.—British Wireless.

CZECH-GERMAN NATIONALITY TREATY

Berlin, Nov. 24.

An agreement has been signed between Germany and Czechoslovakia regulating questions of nationality and the option of Czech inhabitants in the district ceded to Germany.

The German Government shall be entitled before July next to request non-Germans in Sudetenland to leave the district within three months if they have settled in Sudetenland since January 1, 1910.

The same rights are reserved to the Czech Government as regards Germans in Czechoslovakia.

A joint committee had been established to supervise the agreement.—Reuter.

THANKSGIVING DAY OBSERVED IN HONGKONG

All the Americans celebrated a national holiday of the United States yesterday, when they observed Thanksgiving Day.

Many private homes, hotels and clubs were the scenes of gay parties where bygone days and memories of similar occasions were discussed and reviewed over the proverbial turkey and all the trimmings which accompany this day of thanks and feasting.

Thanksgiving Day to the people of the United States stands as an honour to the pilgrims who landed at Plymouth after a weary and rough voyage from England.

They nominated that day to thanks and gratitude for the success of the journey and which to-day is suggested by the past comforts and blessings received during the year gone by.

Many American youngsters look upon this day as a school holiday, and one of gaiety, feasting and happiness in the home.

So it was that the citizens of America celebrated November 24, though far from their native home, the memory and honour of the occasion was carried out in Honkgong by these enjoyable Americans.

ARTICLES FOR BAZAARS

Hongkong Chinese women's organisations have launched a campaign to collect articles for the bazaars to be separately held on January 1 next year in France and the United States to raise funds for the relief of refugees in China.

During a meeting of the women's groups on Wednesday under the chairmanship of Madame Sun Yat-sen, a campaign committee was formed.

It is expected that the collection of articles will be completed by December 9.

Duchesses Kiss At Royal Brothers' Paris Reunion

The Duchess of Gloucester and the Duchess of Windsor kissed each other affectionately when they met in the Hotel Meurice in Paris on November 10, and the Duke of Windsor, seeing the Duke of Gloucester for the first time since the abdication, clapped his brother on the shoulder, saying "Glad to see you again, old man; you are looking extremely well." "So are you," replied His Royal Highness, as they warmly shook hands. All four smiled happily as, chatting gaily, they went into the lift which took them upstairs to the private dining-room.

After lunch the royal party went for a drive, and at night they dined together—again in private.

The brothers were each seen to be wearing a Flanders poppy when they were out driving, and previously they had been made the centre of a touching incident by a street violinist.

He was one of the crowd which had gathered at the hotel entrance, and as the Dukes met he struck up "God Save the King" while men spectators hastily removed their hats.

The Duke and Duchess of Gloucester had flown to Paris from Marseilles, where they landed the same morning from the liner Viceroy of India, which had brought them from East Africa.

They travelled in the King's plane, which was piloted by Wing Commander Fielden, the Captain of the King's Flight.

On landing at Le Bourget, they were greeted by Sir Eric Phipps, British Ambassador, and Sir Godfrey Thomas, the Duke's secretary.

They drove straight to the Hotel Maurice.

LONGED-FOR MEETING

A member of the entourage of the Duke of Gloucester said that he had longed to see his brother again, and as an opportunity was offered to break his journey home and spend a day with him, he would not miss it.

Wireless communications were exchanged between the liner on which they were travelling and the hotel.

Can't Change Her Mind To Get Divorce

A woman seeking divorce cannot change her mind about the grounds of her petition.

She cannot bring a petition for desertion after abandoning a petition alleging adultery.

This was made clear in a summons in which Mr. Justice Henn Collins gave a reserved judgment in the Divorce Court recently.

The matter had come before the judge on a summons by Mrs. C. F. E. Walton, the wife of Mr. L. A. Walton, by way of appeal from an order of a Registrar of the Court refusing his certificate that the pleadings in her second petition were in order.

Mr. and Mrs. Walton were married in June, 1929. In the following November the husband went to Canada and, except for a letter which she received in the same month, the wife, it was stated, had not heard from him since.

In March, 1937, she filed a petition for divorce, charging him with adultery at an hotel in Canada.

EARLIER CASE QUOTED

Owing to difficulties in her way, Mrs. Walton had the petition dismissed and last June she filed a fresh petition on the ground of desertion. No appearance was entered by her husband to either petition.

In refusing his certificate, the Registrar took the view that the filing of the first petition automatically put an end to the desertion so that it was impossible to say that the husband had deserted his wife for three years immediately preceding the presentation of the second petition.

Mr. Justice Henn Collins said that judgment in a similar case had been given this week by Mr. Justice Langton, and he could find no material distinction between that case and this one. He dismissed the appeal.

Round About

It was after nine o'clock in the evening. Men and women were crossing the ferry to attend social functions in Kowloon.

Dinner clothes and full dress uniforms mingled with silks, satins, chiffons and brocades draped in furs, worn by the escorted ladies. All of the various small groups disembarking from the ferry were surrounded by an air of gaiety, good humour and well being.

Twos and fours hailed taxis at the depot and departed for their destination. Others, travelling a short distance, signalled to waiting rickshaws.

Very important cargo for the latter conveyances and the coolies. Proudly they trotted around the rickshaw sheds, shouting and jabbering to each other up Chatham Road with their fine passengers. "Maybe fifteen or twenty cents to the Peninsula Hotel," they contemplated.

To the lot of a very small rickshaw coolie, who was almost hidden by the upraised roof of his vehicle, fell the young English gentleman in dinner clothes. Greatly impressed and out to do his best, the small coolie kicked up his heels and away he spun around the posts at the Police Pier. But alas, trouble awaited his smart departure!

Crack and bang, then the sound of breaking wood as rickshaw coolie, conveyance and passenger fell in a heap in the street. A dinner suit was slightly ruined, also an English gentleman's disposition. A rickshaw broken and a very crestfallen and disturbed coolie bowed his jilted passenger into another rickshaw.

HONGKONG, NOVEMBER 25, 1938.

"IRON LUNGS" FOR COLONY

HONGKONG has every reason to be happy that it has not been forgotten in connexion with the munificent gift of "iron lungs" announced by the distinguished British philanthropist and motor magnate, Lord Nuffield, and there can be no doubt that the gift will be most gratefully accepted by residents of the Colony.

* * *

IN THE PAST, Lord Nuffield's gifts have been for the benefit of institutions in the Mother Country but now that a number of local hospitals and institutions will benefit by his generosity, the announcement will be generally hailed.

* * *

CABLES RECEIVED yesterday brought the welcome news that every hospital in the British Empire would be presented with an "iron lung," the artificial respirator used in infantile paralysis cases. Some five thousand of these "iron lungs," costing approximately £100 each, or about £500,000 in all, will be manufactured in Lord Nuffield's works at Cowley, Oxford, and distributed to the hospitals of the Empire free of charge. The possibilities are that the major Government hospitals of Hongkong may receive three or four of the "iron lungs," and that the others will be presented with one each.

£500,000 GIFT

LORD NUFFIELD expects that each respirator will cost £98 and he is prepared to make any number of them and, after the demand has been satisfied, probably in March next, stocks will be kept at the Cowley works in case of need. Although the average time a person occupies an "iron lung" is from ten to fourteen days, nine months may be the period required for the patient's recovery. It is expected that, in the first three months of 1940, nearly 100,000 of the respirators will be ready for distribution in preparation for the summer.

* * *

MAKING THE ANNOUNCEMENT of the gift, Lord Nuffield stated that it seemed a dreadful state of affairs that children should suffer from infantile paralysis when they might be saved, and, in a large percentage of cases, cured, whereas without this machine they might die. The disease was most prevalent in warm climates so it is intended to supply the big cities first. The chief advantage of the respirator which Lord Nuffield proposes to present to the various hospitals is its lightness which aids transportation: it can be worked by hand if electrical power is not available.

CHIEF ADVANTAGE

IT IS BELIEVED that there are few, if any, "iron lungs" at present available in the Far East, though it will be remembered that the Peiping Union Medical College was in possession of the only one a few years ago, which was put to good use in the case of Fred Snite, an American youth which contracted the dreaded disease during a visit to the Far East. After a period of treatment in Peiping, young Snite was, with the greatest care, taken to Shanghai by train and placed on board an American vessel which took him home where he is now receiving expert treatment and where sometimes it is possible for him to do without the "iron lung."

* * *

THE GIFT announced by Lord Nuffield to Hongkong will, therefore, be all the more welcome as it has not been possible in the past, owing to lack of funds, to purchase apparatus of this nature. Hongkong extends its thanks to this benefactor of mankind who, during the past few years, has given immense sums, totalling more than ten million pounds sterling, to charity. It is to be hoped that more men will be found possessing a spirit of charity such as that possessed by Lord Nuffield and willing to give freely of their means.

BENEFACTOR OF MANKIND

"While Hongkong is exceedingly gratified with this unexpected windfall, her thoughts will turn to another man who has given the best of his medical ability to the Colony. We refer to Professor W. I. Gerrard, who has just been honoured by the Government of the Republic of China for his humane services, and take this opportunity to express our heartiest congratulations to the recipient and to wish that he may spend many more years of good health in which to be of further service to his fellow men.

OLD SHANGHAI RESIDENT DIES

Mr. A. L. Anderson's Public Service

Founder of the Shanghai Police Specials, which force he commanded for four years, Honorary Life Assistant Commissioner of the Shanghai Municipal Police and a popular personality in all Shanghai circles, Mr. Arthur William Lefevre D'Arcy Anderson died on November 17 at the age of 69 following a long illness.

The youngest son of Lt.-Col. Thomas Anderson; late 78th. (now Seaforth) Highlanders and Josephine (nee D'arcy) his wife, Mr. Anderson was born at Whitmuir Hall, Selkirk in 1869 and educated at the United Services College, Westward Ho, being a contemporary of Rudyard Kipling, and at Merchant Taylors' School and London University.

In 1885 he went to Australia where he assisted Professor Wragge initiate of the Queensland Government Meteorological Service.

PROMINENT FREEMASON

He arrived in Shanghai in 1889 where he joined the firm of Butterfield & Swire. In 1898 he founded the firm of A. L. Anderson & Co. and was also instrumental in founding the Shanghai Stock Exchange, of which he was elected Chairman seven times. He retired in 1925.

Mr. Anderson was a prominent Freemason being Worshipful Master of the Northern Lodge in 1904 following which he served as District Grand Secretary, Registrar and Treasurer for North China. He was a founder of Daintree Lodge, Weihaiwei, being made a life member of the Lodge for his services to Freemasonry.

His prowess in the sporting world was well-known in his younger days and as a rider he won the Jockey Cup and several small races. For four years he held the Shanghai Sculling Championship and was for many years cox and coach of the Scottish crew.

TWO SHOT BY CONSTABLE

SHANGHAI MAN RUNS AMUCK

After shooting and seriously wounding two persons in West Hongkew and Ningpo Road on the night of November 17, a Chinese police constable of the Shanghai Municipal Police was sought in an extensive manhunt but is reported still at large.

The first news of the shooting came from the West Hongkew Police station shortly after 8 p.m. that night when a Chinese was brought there suffering from bullet wounds in the neck and chest. He said the shooting had been done by C.P.C. 774.

Immediately after the shooting the police constable made his way into the Central Distict where he shot and very seriously wounded a Chinese watchman on Ningpo Road, and again he made his escape after firing the shots, although several police rushed to the scene but were too late to apprehend him.

RELIEF SHIP IN CANTON

The Naval authorities report that the s.s. Wuchang, relief ship carrying stores for refugees arrived safely in Canton yesterday.

BLUELAND HELD BY REDLAND

According to a communique issued to the Press yesterday, the Blueland forces which are attacking Redland (Hongkong), from the north, in the Combined Manoeuvres, have been firmly held up on a line overlooking Tide Cove and Tolo Harbour. Blueland are using gas, the communique adds.

UNLAWFUL POSSESSION OF CHEMICALS

Pleading guilty to the charge of possession of a quantity of a mixture of sulphur and potassium chloride without a permit at Tsing Fung Street, Bay View, on November 21, a stone-breaker named Tsang Fung was sentenced to six months' hard labour by Mr. R. A. D. Forrest at the Central Court yesterday.

Detective-Sergeant H. A. MacVey, who prosecuted, told the Court that defendant was seen preparing the explosive by a detective, and when the police approached him he dumped the powder and attempted to run away but was caught.

CONDITIONS IN CENTRAL CHINA

Interesting Talk By Mr. G. Helde

SPLENDID MORALE

Mr. G. G. Helde, Secretary of the National Committee of the Y.M.C.A. in Central China, was the speaker at the Hongkong Y's Men's Club luncheon held at the St. Francis Hotel yesterday. Mr. Helde, who has been residing for more than 10 years in China, spoke on "Conditions in Central China."

Mr. Peter H. Sin, President of the Club, introduced the speaker. Mr. Lai Man-ki and Mr. W. H. Lee, son of Mr. William Yinson Lee, were among those present.

Speaking on communication and transportation, Mr. Helde said that Central China has the best road building in the whole of China, and remarked that it was fortunate to be so, for with the continued bombing of the railways, the roads there became most useful and important for the transportation of troops and refugees.

The speaker drew a vivid picture of the refugees streaming into Central China and from there into Western China for safety.

"For about a year and a half I have been watching these sacrifices and complete disruption of life," said Mr. Helde referring to the gradual movement of industry and people from Central China.

Dwelling upon the morale of the soldiers and people there during war time, Mr. Helde said that since the beginning of the hostilities he had never heard from the lips of those who had made sacrifices or suffered, saying, "We give up, we quit," or express, "If the war is over. . . . When the war is over. . . . I wish the war was over. . . ."

Mr. P. V. Z. Lock, a member of the Y's Men's Club, endorsed Mr. Helde's views, remarking that during his travels in different parts of China he had never heard of these feeble utterances. "Only in Shanghai and Hongkong people have asked when the war will be over."

Professor Hsu Ti-shan thanked the speaker for his address.

POSTMAN AND ACCOMPLICES CHARGED

Larceny Of Mail Bags, Charge

Three Chinese stood in the dock before Mr. Justice R.E. Lindsell at the Criminal Sessions yesterday, charged with larceny of 28 postal packages from mail bags, unlawfully opening a mail bag and possession of a forged die. The three were:—Tse Sui-ki, postman, Ho Kai-ming and Ho Fong.

At the commencement of the case, John Whyatt, Crown Counsel, informed that the Crown had no evidence against third accused, and he was accordingly discharged.

First defendant pleaded guilty to all three charges while second accused pleaded guilty to the second and third charges only.

First defendant was employed as a mail coolie in the General Post Office in November 1937. Some time in January this year, he met with a bus accident and was kept in hospital till May. When he returned to work he was given lighter work, which included sorting of mails and tying letters into bundles.

About 6 p.m. on October, 6 Tse was assisting Ip Hong-sang, a mail clerk, in the bundling of letters after they had been sorted and put into their respective mail bags. Ip saw Tse put some letters into the Sheung Wan Post Office bag and then seal it. Tse then left for the Sheung Wan Post Office with the bag.

DEFENDANTS ARRESTED

Acting on information, a Chinese detective went to Queen Victoria Street and there he saw Tse walking from Des Voeux Road, Central. The third defendant was following him a few paces behind. As a result, the second floor of No. 9, Queen Victoria Street was raided on October 6 at 6.20 p.m. and Tse and second defendant were found in a room with an open mail bag beside them and letters which had been taken out. When they saw the Police they allowed the letters to drop down on the floor. In the rear cubicle of the premises was found a hammer and a knife. Third defendant was arrested at the doorway of the house, and it was alleged that he kept watch for the other two accused there.

Mr. Whyatt remarked to His Lordship that first defendant was obviously a very clever man. Since the defendants' arrest, however hardly any more complaints were received by the Post Office with regard to late delivery of mails from Europe and the U.S.A.

In passing sentence of five years hard labour on Tse on the first charge and one year and two years on the second and third charges respectively, the sentences to run concurrently, His Lordship said that Tse had abused the trust which had been put in him as a postman. For stealing the letters alone, said His Lordship, accused was liable to imprisonment of 14 years with hard labour; for opening the mail bags without authority two years, and for possession of the forged instrument, seven years. In view of accused's position of trust and in order to protect the public, His Lordship said that he would impose sentence as above stated.

His Lordship imposed sentence of two years with hard labour on second defendant on the third charge.

WORKSHOP FOR REFUGEES

For the dual purpose of providing relief for war refugees in Hongkong and training them in handicraft, the local branch of the Chinese Women's Thrift Movement Association, in collaboration with the Hongkong Chinese Women's Club, is planning to establish a refugees' workshop.

Refugees of over 18 years of age, irrespective of sex, will be admitted. They will work eight hours every day in the week except Sunday, and will be required to attend lectures on various subjects in the evening.

UNMUZZLED DOGS

Appearing on summons before Mr. E. Himsworth at the Kowloon Court yesterday, charged with having kept an unlicensed dog and with having allowed it out without muzzle or lead, A. W. Hollands of 6, Minden Avenue, was fined $15.

Pleading guilty by letter to having allowed her dog out without muzzle or lead, Mrs. C. G. Walker, of 113 Austin Road, was fined $10.

LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL PASSES BUDGET BILL

Voluntary Registration Of Hongkong Chinese

The Budget Bill providing for the appropriation of a sum not exceeding $29,327,294 for public services for 1939 was passed at the Legislative Council meeting yesterday. Five Bills amending respectively the Land Registration Ordinance, 1844 (and conferring certain powers on assistant Land Officers), the Pharmacy and Poisons Ordinance, 1937, the Dollar Currency Notes Ordinance, 1935, the Registration of Persons Ordinance, 1934, and the Police Force Ordinance, 1932, and the Peace Preservation Ordinance, 1886, were also passed following second and third readings.

Those present at the meeting were:—His Excellency the Governor, Sir Geoffry Northcote; His Excellency the General Officer Commanding Troops, Major-General A. W. Bartholomew; the Hon. Colonial Secretary (Mr. N. L. Smith); the Hon. Attorney General, (Mr. C. G. Alabaster); the Hon. Acting Secretary for Chinese Affairs (Mr. W. J. Carrie); the Hon. Financial Secretary and Colonial Treasurer (Mr. S Caine); the Hon. Director of Public Works (Mr. R. M. Henderson); the Hon. Commissioner of Police (Mr. T. H. King); the Hon. Sir Henry Pollock, K.C., LL.D., the Hon. Mr. T. N. Chau, C.B.E., the Hon. Mr. M. K. Lo, the Hon. Mr. S. H. Dodwell, the Hon. Mr. Leo D'Almada e Castro, Jnr., the Hon. Dr. Li Shu-fan, and the Hon. Mr. A. L. Shields.

The Hon. Mr. Carrie was sworn in prior to the meeting.

In connection with the Registration of Persons Ordinance, the Hon. Mr. T. N. Chau, Senior Chinese Member, made a few comments, and reiterated that Chinese British subjects and Chinese permanent residents would yield to none, in their eagerness and desire to serve the interests of the Colony.

The Hon. Mr. Chau said:—

Sir:—On behalf of my Chinese colleagues and myself, I desire to say a few words on the question of exclusion of Chinese British subjects from Part II of this Bill.

All Chinese born in the Colony are of course British subjects. But it has to be realised that an ordinance applicable to such persons would be difficult to enforce because it is an impossibility to trace such British subjects from the Register of Births. Moreover, it is a well-known fact that many births have not been registered at all.

VOLUNTARY REGISTRATION

The experience gained in the European War of 1914 to 1918, and in the strikes of 1922 and 1925, was such as to convince everyone in the Colony of the loyalty of Chinese British subjects and of the loyalty of Chinese permanent residents to their local allegiance. In these circumstances, I understand that instead of resorting to legislation which it would be impracticable to enforce, Chinese British subjects and Chinese permanent residents will be given the opportunity to register voluntarily, and steps have been taken with this end in view. That my colleagues and I feel is the best solution of the difficulty.

In making this statement, which I hope will remove any misapprehension which may exist on this matter, I can assure you, Sir, that the Chinese British subjects and Chinese permanent residents will yield to none in their eagerness and desire to serve to the best of their ability the interests of the Colony in her hour of need.

The Colonial Secretary, replying, said:—"I rise by Your Excellency's instructions to say that the arrangement which has been enumbrated by the honourable member is expected by Government and steps are being taken to start voluntary registration for Chinese British subjects who are willing to have it."

FINANCE COMMITTEE

At a meeting of the Finance Committee held immediately after the Council Meeting, votes totalling $341,722, including $115,000 for passages of Government servants, were approved.

The Hon. Mr. N. L. Smith, Colonial Secretary, presided, and others present were the Financial Secretary, Hon. Mr. S. Caine, the Director of Public Works, Hon. Mr. R. M. Henderson, the Hon. Sir Henry Pollock, the Hon. Mr. T. N. Chau, C.B.E., the Hon. Mr. M. K. Lo, the Hon. Mr. Leo D'Almada e Castro, Jnr., the Hon. Dr. Li Shu-fan and the Hon. Mr. A. L. Shields.

In reply to a question by the Hon. Mr. Shields on the item for passage money, the Hon. Financial Secretary said that the year's estimates, though put at considerably higher than the past three years, had been a conservative figure. £30,000 had been the sum estimated, but the actual expenditure was likely to be more like $37,000. This was due to the increase in fares and the fact that more passages were being required than had been anticipated when the estimates were framed.

AMBULANCE BLANKETS

In connection with the washing of Fire Brigade Ambulance blankets, the Hon Dr. Li Shu-fan asked: About the blankets, I quite agree to having them washed frequently, but may we have an idea how frequently they are sterilised?

The Hon. Colonial Secretary replied that the normal average monthly expenditure for this was $25 but, with the recent increases in notifiable diseases, that sum had risen to $28. He would be glad to furnish further particulars later.

LEPERS AND LUNATICS

PROBLEM FACING HONGKONG

The Hongkong Government is facing a problem in respect of the increasing number of lepers and lunatics who are wandering into the Colony, primarily in consequence of the Japanese occupation of Canton.

Hitherto such unfortunates rounded up here have been repatriated but this is not now possible, though, regarding lunatics, the last batch was sent back to Canton only last month.

The leper settlement at Kennedy Town is soon to have a wire fence round it as a safeguard against any of the inmates escaping.

PRIVATE CAR USED FOR HIRE

The summons against Chan Cheuk-yuin, manager of the Luk Kwok Hotel, Gloucester Road, for allowing a private car for hire, was adjourned for seven days by Mr. R. Edwards at the Central Court yesterday on the application of Mr. J. M. D'Almada Remedios, who appeared for the defence. Defendant, who had gone to Macao, has been taken ill there.

JURYMAN SITS THROUGH CASE AS SPECTATOR

Mr. Mathieu Beraha, chosen as juror in a case at the Criminal Sessions yesterday, was absent when his name was called. His place on the jury was taken by someone else.

Turning up five minutes later, Beraha was asked by His Lordship, Mr. Justice R. E. Lindsell, for an explanation. Beraha said that his watch was not quite right and apologised, but His Lordship directed him to remain throughout the proceedings of the case.

TYPHOON SOUTH OF MANILA

The Royal Observatory reported yesterday afternoon that a depression or typhoon has entered the southern part of the China Sea, and is situated about 350 miles south-west of Manila, moving west or west-north-west."

Japanese in Canton have issued a proclamation intimating that all private property in China belonging to the overseas Chinese who join in the anti-Japanese activities will be regarded as "enemy's property" and will, therefore, be subject to expropriation.

CHINESE TROOPS RECAPTURE STRATEGIC PASS IN SMASHING ATTACK

Severe Fighting Near Sinyang Continues

CHUNGKING, NOVEMBER 24.

WUSHENGKWAN, STRATEGIC PASS ON THE HONAN-HUPEH BORDER, which is the gateway leading to north Hupeh, was recaptured by the Chinese in a smashing attack on Tuesday night, according to military advices.

A strong Chinese column forced its way from Pingchingkwan, another strategic pass to the west of Wushengkwan, to the latter place and after a bitter engagement, drove away the Japanese. A part of the remnant Japanese fled northward and the rest southward.

The Chinese counter-attacking Sinyang, on the Peiping-Hankow Railway, about 27 miles north of Wushengkwan, is tightening their encirclement of the town. Fighting which has been raging there for the past few days is continued with undiminished severity.

Meanwhile, other Chinese units are pursuing the Japanese retreating to Hwangchwan and Sihsien in southeastern Honan.—Central News.

Problem Of Providing For Refugees

SIR CLARK KERR'S APPEAL

London, Nov. 24.

The British Ambassador to China, Sir Archibald Clark Kerr, in a cable to Mr. Gordon Thompson, Secretary of the British China Relief Fund, says:—

"The journey I am now taking through Central and Western China has shown me that the problem of providing for refugees remains as acute as ever. In the face of the Japanese advance numberless people have abandoned their homes and taken to the roads and are in conditions of great distress.

"The Chinese Government and private citizens are doing all possible to alleviate their misery but it is of such magnitude and difficulty that it is without precedent.

"The Chinese are appreciative of your efforts and they ask no more.

"The local committees of your fund are doing work which I can only describe as admirable. But I myself have seen sights which impel me to urge you to continue your efforts unabated.

"A fresh appeal to our countrymen cannot be unavailing."—Reuter.

TRAGIC DEATH OF U.S. SEAMAN

Shanghai, Nov. 24.

David Bickroy, seaman on board the s.s. Isabel, Admiral H.E. Yarnell's yacht, was found dead with gunshot wounds on board the ship on November 22.

He is believed to have shot himself with a service pistol. Seaman Bickroy was a native of Chafiton, Ohio.—Reuter.

JAPAN'S FALL PREDICTED

Commenting upon the prediction made by foreign observers that the war will end within a few months after the fall of Wuhan and Canton, Gen. Wu said, "China is just starting the war. Japan knows well that, if it takes a year and half to cut the communications, it must require longer time to wage war in the interior where military operations are increasingly difficult. The war will not stop until the Japanese troops are withdrawn from the Chinese territory."

ALREADY HALF WON

He further predicted the collapse of Japan before she would be able to defeat China and saw no danger of further reverses. He emphasized the fact that, if the people should continue to withstand hardships and keep up the morale, victory was already half won.

In conclusion, Gen. Wu stated "I am with my people in Kwangtung. Our government machinery is functioning as usual. I will not leave this province and my people."

It is to be noted that Kwangtung Province has lost only six towns of six districts apart from Canton City out of 97 districts, or hsien, two cities and three special areas.

In order to concentrate Provincial functionaries, Governor Wu Te-chen has notified the various departments and bureaux to move to Lienhsien, says the "Ta Kung Pao." Some reduction in the staff members are to be made, and an allowance of one month's salary for transportation will be made.

The "Sing Tao Jih Pao" says Governor Wu started on Wednesday on an inspection tuip to northwest Kwangtung.

PRINCE KONOYE HONOURED

JAPANESE USE VICE BAIT FOR REVENUE

Opium And Gambling Rife In Canton And Districts

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT)

Shum Chun, November 24.

While the Japanese occupation of Canton is claimed to be a measure against the Kuomintang and for Sino-Japanese co-operation and prosperity, the stark truth is that the principal aim is the conversion of Canton and neighbouring districts into opium dens and gambling houses for the sake of revenue.

Honam, suburb of Canton, is now full of fan tan houses which yield about $10,000 a day for the Japanese Army. In all the villages between Canton and Fatshan are many gambling houses and opium dens, and each village is required to raise $90 a day. The total revenue will be about $100,000 a day.

Looting also is participated in, mostly by ronins wearing Japanese army caps and trousers. It is said that some are regular soldiers, who discard their tunics when plundering villages and violating women.

Gambling and opium smoking have been prohibited in Kwangtung since national unification, and strict enforcement was ordered by Governor Wu Te-chen. Many people in the Canton area, especially in Honam suburb, were accustomed to gambling and opium smoking during the former regime. Hence looters and ronins are frequenting these resorts.

MR. OSWALD PIROW IN MUNICH

Munich, Nov. 24.

The South African Minister for Defence and Industry, Mr. Oswald Pirow, arrived here to-day by train from Breslau accompanied by a lieutenant from the Defence Forces and a Legation Secretary belonging to the Foreign Office.

Mr. Pirow went from the railway station to the leading hotel Vier Jahreszeiten and then resumed his journey to Berchtesgaden by car. Mr. Pirow will be back again in Munich to-night where he will take the train for Berlin.—Transocean.

KING GEORGE TO LAUNCH NEW BATTLESHIP

London, Nov. 24.

King George, accompanied by the Queen, will perform the christening ceremony of the new battleship King George V on February 21, 1939, according to an official announcement. Their Majesties will also make an inspection tour of the shipyards of North Eastern England.—Transocean.

"IRON LUNGS" FOR EMPIRE HOSPITALS

LORD NUFFIELD'S BENEFACTION

London, Nov. 24.

Lord Nuffield, the well-known British philanthropist, announced last night that he intends to provide every hospital and institution in the British Empire with an "iron lung." Some of the large hospitals may have three or four.

It is expected that all of the iron lungs required will be available by next March.

It is proposed to give up to 5,000 iron lungs, which will represent a total benefaction of £500,000.

At present they cost £98 each, and he was prepared to manufacture any number at his works at Cowley, Oxford.

"Lord Nuffield said: "It seems to me a dreadful state of affairs when children suffering from infantile paralysis might be saved, and in a large percentage of cases, cured, whereas without this machine they must die."

Originally produced for cases of infantile paralysis, the "iron lung" could be used in other forms of lung failure, and in cases of gas-poisoning in war-time.—Reuter.

Lesson From Blackout

A large crowd gathered to watch the proceedings but it gradually wandered away, disappointed at lack of the fireworks display they had been looking forward to.

A very disappointing view of the proceedings was taken by the numerous insect inhabitants of the waste ground. True, they had experienced innumerable pairs of feet tramping them down on Al Fresco Fete day. But being subjected to water from a hose and then to bleaching powder produced from them a regular buzz and chatter of protest.

A similar exercise in decontaminating a gas-bomb affected area was carried out on the Island, in the road separating the Hongkong Club and the Cable and Wireless Building.

TWO FIRES

Shortly after the black-out had begun in earnest, an urgent call was received at the Kowloon Fire Station that fire had broken out at the Hunghom Broadcasting Studio.

Three appliances were immediately rushed to the scene, where they found that the "flames" had begun to gain a firm hold. Hampered by their protective clothing, by entire lack of lights and by the fact that the water mains had been "burst by bombs" so that water had to be hand-pumped, the men, under the able direction of a number of officers, nevertheless worked very well indeed, and the "blaze" was soon put under control.

Shortly after this, on the Hongkong side, the alarming call was received that the China Fleet Club had been set alight. Three engines reached the scene within a very few minutes and, though working under the same difficulties as had been experienced in dealing with the Kowloon conflagration, the Brigade soon had the situation well in hand. In each case there were no casualties.

OBJECT OF "BLACK-OUT"

In an interview with the press yesterday, Wing Commander A. H. Steele-Perkins, Air Raids Precautions Officer, said that the object of last night's "black-out" was an endeavour to discover whether the Colony can be seen by aircraft and whether there were any outstanding land marks which gave the Colony away.

After receiving reports on the test last night, consideration would be given to camouflaging any points which are noticeable by enemy aircraft he said.

Another problem was whether traffic could be allowed to run without giving the Colony's position away.

Franco-German Declaration Welcomed By Britain

Paris, November 24.

The Prime Minister, Mr. Chamberlain, and Foreign Secretary, Lord Halifax, left the British Embassy at ten o'clock this morning en route to the Quai D'Orsay to begin the conversations with M. Daladier and M. Bonnet which will last until 12.30 p.m. The conversation will continue after lunch at the Elysee.

The talks will begin with the assistance of the new hopeful factor—announcement of the Franco-German "No War" Declaration which is expected to be signed at the end of the month.

In British circles, the suggestion that the new Declaration may be the first wedge in the driving apart of Franco-British co-operation is scouted. It is pointed out that Britain had been kept fully informed of the progress of the negotiations which she watches with sympathy and the conclusion of the "No War" Declaration is welcomed.

A similar view is taken generally by the French press where it is pointed out that co-operation between France and Britain is the cornerstone of French foreign policy.

It is not expected that the outcome of to-day's talks will be known until to-night, but important statements are then expected including fuller information as to the Franco-German "No War" Declaration.

Indication that defence problems will play a large part in to-day's conversations is given by the fact that Mr. Chamberlain and General Gamelin, Chief of the French General Staff, had long talks last night.—Reuter.

INCREASE IN CRIME

Police Report For 1937

The year 1937 was an exceptionally heavy one for the Police Force, the Report of the Commissioner of Police, tabled in Legislative Council yesterday, states. In the early part of the year the Colony received several distinguished visitors in whose interest additional precautionary measures were taken. The Coronation festivities entailed much extra work on nearly all ranks, but the ready co-operation of the public lightened the task of the Police.

In 1936 there was a serious increase in larceny. This increase has persisted, though in a less degree, during 1937. There were 12,434 serious crimes in 1937, as against 9,038 in 1936, an increase of 37%. With only a nominal increase in the strength of the Force, the percentage of arrests and convictions was fully maintained in the increased total. There were 150 convictions at Sessions as against 114 in 1936. The prisons continued to be overcrowded.

NAVAL OFFICERS' JOURNEY ACROSS NO MAN'S LAND

Shanghai, Nov. 24.

Seeking to establish contact with about 200 foreigners marooned above Kuling, an American and a British naval officer set out on a journey across No Man's Land. They are Executive Officers aboard the U. S. S. Monocacy and H. M. S. Cockchafer.

Arrangements to facilitate their trip were made by the Japanese Army and Consular authorities who arranged for their safe conduct through Japanese lines.

It is believed that five to six thousand Chinese troops are at present at Kuling holding out against the Japanese.—Reuter.

FORGED BANK NOTES

Hui Chi-sang, 48, rice broker, appeared before Mr. Q. A. A. Macfadyen at the Kowloon Court yesterday on two charges of having uttered two forged Chartered Bank $50 banknotes and of possession of six such notes.

Evidence was given by the informer who testified to having led defendant to the On Lok Yuen Cafe in Nathan Road, where he was to sell a hundred such forged notes to a man for $24. The man at the Cafe was a detective.

Further hearing was adjourned to Tuesday, November 29.

"CASINO" AS CAMP FOR REFUGEES

Preparations Under Way

Cheerfully confident that China must eventually emerge victorious in her war of resistance against the Japanese, Major T. Y. Chang, Commissioner of Police, Shum Chun, gave the "Daily Press" an interview yesterday in his Headquarters, in the course of which he said that preparations were well under way to turn the old "Casino" into a refugee camp.

Major Chang showed our representatives round the premises. The old Police Headquarters is ready for occupation with its school room and cubicles and after the roof of the theatre building has been renovated it should have accommodation for at least 500 people.

Talking about the renewed Japanese activity in the vicinity of Shum Chun, Major Chang said the invaders were only 40 miles away. He thought their objective was to cut a straight line from Tamsui, through Cheungmuktau to the Bocca Tigris.

The Japanese were being engaged by Chinese regulars though the guerillas were also causing them no end of trouble.

Regarding the Bias Bay region, Major Chang said the Japanese had set up a base there, very strongly fortified with barbed wire entanglements, etc.

CAR BANDIT EXECUTED IN GERMANY

Berlin, Nov. 24.

The first man to be executed under the new law against car bandits and gangsters promulgated three days ago is Hans Hahn, aged 19. He was beheaded at Ploetzensee Prison this morning for the murder of a taxidriver.

The law, which was issued in consequence of an alarming increase in crimes of violence in Germany, provides no right for appeal. Hahn was only found guilty and senteneed to death yesterday evening.—Reuter.

SIR ROBERT CRAIGIE SEES MR. ARITA

Tokyo, Nov. 24.

The British Ambassador, Sir Robert Craigie, called on the Japanese Foreign Minister, Mr. Arita, to-day and informed him that His Majesty's Government could not accept as valid, Japan's arguments against the reopening of the Yangtze.

Sir Robert's intimation was conveyed orally.

It is generally believed that the replies of the French and American Governments will be in the same sense but their response, according to the Foreign Office, has hitherto not been received.—Reuter.

REFUGEE EMERGENCY COUNCIL MEETING

get the ship up as soon as possible. The Committee, therefore, on Monday evening confirmed the action taken by the Treasurer, Mr. J. M. Wong and myself on Monday morning, and authorised an advance up to $130,000.

Through the generosity of Messrs. Wang Kee, who gave $4,000, Messrs. Dodwell, who gave a truck which is now in Shameen, and the Kwongchouwan Overseas Association, who gave an ambulance, and very many other gifts of goods, I do not anticipate the total expenditure on the ship will much exceed $120,000 from the funds of the Council. We have applied to the British Fund for the Relief of Distress in China for the repayment of this sum.

I am convinced it only needs that more information should come through, as it is beginning to come through, of the needs in south-west China, for a very large amount of money to be given I want, therefore, to urge all of you here to do your utmost with your friends and in every possible way, and I appeal, if I may, through you to the whole public of Hongkong, to contribute to the utmost capacity for the relief of refugees.

Money should be sent to the Treasurers of the British Fund for the Relief of Distress in China, and our Council will apply to them for help as we need it, or, of course, we are prepared to receive money ourselves, either earmarked for a particular district or for general purposes.

I might mention that we have already received $2,000 from the Chung Shan Guild for work in Chung Shan county, and the Rev. H. A. Wittenbach and Dr. Winterstein have gone to that district to begin work.

REFUGEE CAMPS

I received this afternoon a letter from the Colonial Secretary, which I should like to read to you.

"The Government is prepared to recommend to Legislative Council next month a vote for the sum of $18,700, equivalent to the amount contributed by the Chamber of Commerce. Payment will be made as early as possible after the vote has been taken."

About a week ago Mr. J. M. Wong handed to us at the Committee meeting cheques totalling $18,700 raised by the Chamber of Commerce for our Paying Camps scheme. We are, therefore, able to go ahead with this scheme, which I think we shall find both the need and the opportunity to develop and extend.

EDUCATED REFUGEES

Mr. Chu, of the Y.M.C.A., is compiling a list of men and women, graduates of Universities, teachers and others, who are in need of help. The help they most need, of course, is work. I am informed by Mr. C. Y. Wu that at the moment it is not possible to take any more workers for Red Cross behind the lines. I do not know if there is any other opportunity for service now in China proper.

My impression is that China's problem is rather to train and equip the men she has than to recruit more. We have, therefore, a great opportunity to help those who find themselves in this Colony with no work, that, when the war is over and reconstruction of China begins, they will be prepared in body, mind and spirit for their work.

The following are on the Executive Committee:—Dr. J. H. Montgomery, Messrs. Lau King-tsing, J. M. Wong, L. K. Chu.

NEVER A COMPLAINT

Mrs. R. Langley, Secretary of the St. John Ambulance Brigade, was occupied all day yesterday, attending to the refugees in the New Territories.

She was most concerned about the lack of water in Shum Chun where the "Casino" is shortly to be turned into a refugee centre.

Mrs. Langley was full of praise for Miss Atkins of the St. Stephen's Girls' College and Capt. Ponting of the Salvation Army who, she said, had spent a couple of nights in Shum Chun doing the "pioneer work." They had been without light or water for both nights but there was not even a murmur of complaint.

DEATH A BETTER FATE

Utterly exhausted through lack of sleep and food, a number of refugee mothers, who found their way into the New Territories yestreday, were said to have deliberately thrown their babies into ponds to drown. This, they did, rather than let the little ones "suffer a worse fate"—that of falling into the hands of the Japanese.

The writer saw one baby who had been deserted but rescued by a kindly policeman. The poor mite was taken to the Sheung Shui Police Station where it was given a warm blanket and some food, and later removed to the Kam Tin Hospital.

KIANGSU TOWN BOMBED

Hwaiyin, Kiangsu, Nov. 24.

Retaliating the Chinese attack on their garrison on November 18, Japanese aircraft have been staging daily raids on Tsaiyukang, opposite Nantungchow.

It is said that during their attack the Chinese slew scores of Japanese and captured a Japanese officer, 18 soldiers and an army lorry.—Central News.

SEPOY RUNS AMOK ON N.W. FRONTIER

Officer Commanding: Two Indian Ranks Also Dead

Peshawar, November 24.

Three British officers and two Indian other ranks of the fourth battalion, Second Punjab Regiment, in camp at Nowshera, on the North-West frontier, were shot dead by a Sepoy who ran amok while on sentry duty in the officers' lines.

After the Sepoy, brandishing a rifle, had shot dead Lieutenant-Colonel E. H. Gray, Officer Commanding the Battalion, others rushed from their tents and were attacked.

Captain R. Tyndall and Lieutenant R. W. Roderick were among those killed and Major E. Curnow and Major A. N. Rea were among the four wounded.

The Sepoy sentry was shot dead.—Reuter.

FIRST RICHMOND SUCCESS

London Welsh Backs Disappoint

Richmond ... 11pts L. Welsh ... 5

Richmond's first home match of the season produced, auspiciously enough, their first victory after two defeats in the provinces, for they beat London Welsh at the Athletic Ground by a goal and two tries to a goal.

All the scoring was done in the last 10 minutes of the first half of a game which otherwise was disappointing.

There was a great deal more inconclusive play, especially from the Welsh, than one had expected. This was particularly the case after the interval when, taking scrums for line-outs, a pack in which Mabbott, Edwards and the three Davies distinguished themselves, gave Maddocks the ball time and again.

Maddocks certainly did not fail them, and G. H. Davies, at stand-off, was all good hands and quick-thinking, but the rest dissipated chance after chance, by knocking on, by overrunning the man with the ball, or by being somewhat too elaborate.

SOUND HOME FULL-BACK

In fairness it must be said that luck was never a great ally of theirs, for every time the ball bounced it seemed to have been inflated with Richmond wind. The home team's defence also had a good deal to do with it, and it is certain that Mennim will not be missed so long as Squire remains as safe, as sure and as judiciously enterprising as he was in this game.

Meikle, who scored for England in every match of the 1934 series, did not have many clear-cut chances and was often beaten by Gwyn Jones, but the other Richmond backs had one period of great success following the Welsh try which a quick follow-up and a smart gather by Edwards made possible and which was well converted by Lowe.

Cooke, a great success, passed out under difficulties to Dawkins and the latter fed Yandell, who went straight through the centre. A moment later Brooke, most promising on the open side of the back row, gave Cornish a chance with a clever pass, and Brooke, too, was with Cooke and Dawkins in a movement which sent Westcombe across for Stevens to convert.

Afterwards the Welsh had it all, but could not score. Squire repeatedly foiled them and useful relieving rushes were made by Teden—the best forward on view—and by Almond, whose dribbling was consistently good.

Richmond: C. M. Squire; L. V. Cornish, K. Wrefodd, G. L. Yandell, G. W. C. Meikle; A. E. Dawkins, P. Cooke; D. E. Teden, A. J. Stevens, R. G. P. Almond, G. W. Buckstone, D. N. Westcombe, W. G. S. Brooke, R. P. Simpson, C. D. Laborde (capt.).

L. Welsh: J. Bell; Gwyn Jones, Idwal Davies, L. Tanner, S. H. Davies; G. H. Davies, J. Maddocks; Ken Jones, Andrew Davies, J. Evans, Ron Mabbott, Vernon Davies, J. A. Davies, B. J. A. Lowe (capt.), J. Edwards.

Referee: Flt.-Lt. J. Lawson.

While other bowls players were congratulating Mr. T. Penrose, of Highfield Manor-road, Christchurch, Hants, on his play he collapsed and died before a doctor playing nearby could reach him.

CANON'S ATTACK ON POOL BETTING

Speaking at the Salisbury Diocesan Conference, Canon H. W. Allen referred to "the enormous growth of football pool betting."

The betting and gambling fever, he said, was spreading enormously from towns to rural parts.

Football pool betting was one of the worst forms of gambling, and he did not think people realised how widespread it was.

Every third family in the population was taking part every week, and little children were brought up with the idea that betting and gambling, especially football pool betting, were harmless and innocent.

£2,000 TO PROVIDE LIFEBOAT

Estate valued at £162,300 (n.p. £179,957) was left by Mr. Lionel Alfred Crichton, of Old Bond-street, W., silversmith, partner in the firm of Crichton Bros. Among his bequests were:

£2,000 to the Royal National Lifeboat Institution, to provide a lifeboat to be called the "Cyril Crichton;"

£200 each to the London Hospital, the Middlesex Hospital, the Goldsmiths Benevolent Institution, and the Silver Trade Pension Society.

Mr. Ernest Symington Coats, of the Conservative Club, Glasgow, a director of J. and P. Coats Ltd. since 1900, left personal estate in Great Britain valued at £29,519. He died intestate.

HOTEL CHAIRMAN'S WILL

Estate valued at £13,290 (n.p. £12,358) was left by Mr. Herbert Fred Richardson, late chairman and managing director of the Queen's Hotel, Eastbourne, who began his career as chief reception clerk of the St. Enoch Hotel, Glasgow, and became manager of hotels in London, Lowestoft and Cardiff, and then of the Royal Bath Hotel, Bournemouth.

SATISFACTORY ASPECTS OF BRITISH TRADE

Adverse Balance May Be Less Than In 1937

London, November 21.

"At the moment, only the preliminary figures in relation to overseas trade in September are available. As a whole these seem to indicate some satisfactory features. September almost invariably shows an increase in turnover as compared with August, and that feature is shown this year. The expansion of imports this year in September as compared with August is slightly less than the expansion in the corresponding period of last year, but the exports of British goods, on the other hand, which last year expanded by £1,717,000, this year increased by £3,477,000."

Re-exports, as a rule, in contradistinction to imports and exports, generally decline in September as compared with August, and the same feature is shown this year, but to a smaller extent than last year.

In the earlier months of the year, the adverse balance of visible trade showed an increase as compared with the corresponding months of last year, but for the last few months the reverse has been the case. In September 1938 the adverse balance was £31,154,000 as compared with £38,375,000 last year. The reversal of the trend in recent months has not yet been good enough to wipe out the increased adverse balance shown in the earlier months, and the total for the first 9 months of this year is £298,106,000 as compared with £297,539,000 in the same period of last year, but if the present trend continues it is certain that the total adverse balance for the whole year will be less than that for 1937.

INVISIBLE EXPORTS

On the other hand, there is little doubt that invisible exports will show a substantial decline, and therefore for the year as a whole there is likely to be an increased adverse balance of payments as compared with 1937.

The growing adverse balance in the earlier part of the year was bringing about a reduced exchange value of the Pound Sterling, and this, of course, operates to stimulate exports and restrict imports.

The recent crisis which led many people in Continental countries to withdraw the balances they had in London banks with a view to their conversion into Dollars, brought about a heavy fall in the exchange value of the Pound Sterling, but much of this fall was regained following upon the Munich Agreement.

ADJUSTMENT

Whereas the Pound was worth $4.91 at the end of July, on October 13 it was worth $4.75, an alteration of roughly 3 per cent. representing for the moment until prices have adjusted themselves the equivalent of a 3 per cent. valorem duty on all imports, and a 3 per cent. subsidy on all exports.

The disadvantage of this form of protection, however, is that it is indiscriminating and applies just as much to goods that we must import as to those goods that we could produce here instead of importing, and since it applies to the goods we must import it tends to force up the prices of raw materials and to that extent is disadvantageous. A tariff, on the other hand, properly applied does not increase prices in this way.

WHOLESALE PRICES

What has just been said, of course, is subject to the qualification that the level of prices here is determined not merely by the exchange rate of the Pound Sterling, but also by the world level of prices.

On account of large harvests sterling prices have been falling rapidly, and the Board of Trade index number for cereals which was 133.1 in October 1937 (prices for 1930 being taken as equal to 100) fell in September of this year to 98.5, having fallen heavily in that month from 105.2 in August of this year.

The price level of all articles showed a small drop between August and September from 99.5 to 98.4, the main cause of this fall being the heavy drop in cereals referred to above. Naturally, the course of prices in September was affected by the crisis, but not uniformly, some commodities falling and others rising sharply, and for this reason it would be unwise at the moment to draw any conclusions from these recent price fluctuations as to the future course of trade.

STEEL PRODUCTION

The production of steel, which reached a record level in this country in November 1937, when no less than 1,178,000 tons were produced, thereafter tended to move downwards, and in recent months fell rapidly, so that in August of this year it had dropped to 659,000 tons.

At last, however, there is a satisfactory upward movement, for in September the total was 755,000 tons. It must be borne in mind that it is customary to find an upward movement in September as compared with August, but with this qualification it is satisfactory to note the appearance of a reversal of the trend of recent months.

Against this satisfactory feature has to be recorded a small decline in the output of pig iron in September as compared with August. This, however, is not necessarily so unsatisfactory as it would appear at first sight, because the availability of scrap for the manufacture of steel in relation to the output is certainly much higher today than it was a year ago, and therefore the call for pig iron tends to be reduced by this factor.

RESTRICTION OF COPPER

EARLIER THAN EXPECTED

London, Nov. 24

Yesterday's announcement of the reintroduction of copper restriction surprised the market in that it was earlier than generally expected. The present statistical position of copper had led to the widespread belief that such action would be necessary sooner or later.

Copper brokers admit that the decision of the producers is capable of having a bearish interpretation, as it envisages no substantial improvement in consumption in the near future. The market, however, appears optimisticaly disposed and greeted the announcement with an appreciable advance in prices.

Sentiment on the whole metal exchange seems brighter, tin, and spelter also sharing in the upward trend.—Reuter.

STERLING MORE BUOYANT

London, Nov. 24

Following Tuesday's rather unhappy experience, Sterling displayed considerably more buoyancy yesterday. Trading was quieter and only little early official support was needed to keep the Sterling-Dollar rate on an even keel.

The sharpness in Tuesday's decline in Sterling in terms of the Dollar is the subject of much discussion, and some criticise the feeble resistance put up by the British Control.

On the other hand, others assert that the pound was depressed by international political considerations, causing a renewed drift of Continental Sterling balances to Dollar. While this movement of "hot" money is temporarily unsettling, it will not be regretted in the long run and does not warrant the Exchange Fund literally throwing good money after bad.—Reuter.

SANDAKAN LIGHT DIVIDEND

At the forthcoming annual general meeting of the Sandakan Light & Power Co., (1922) Ltd., to be held on December 14, the Board of Directors will recommend payment to shareholders of a dividend of 75 cents per share in respect of the financial year ended June 30, 1938.

INCREASE SHOWN IN PEOPLE'S SAVINGS

The Chief Registrar of Friendly Societies (London) gives at the end of the general section of his report for the year 1937 a table of figures of small savings—"the savings of the people"—in the registered provident societies of the country. It is shown that the funds of the societies have risen from £254,000,000 at the end of 1913 to £1,550,000,000 at the end of 1936. There was an increase of £107,000,0000 during the year 1936.

The Registrar explains that the figures for funds have been compiled so as to represent as nearly as possible the combined savings of the members—i.e., the total sums accumulated in specific funds for the collective benefit of the members or the aggregate of the amounts standing to their credit in shares, deposits, etc., as the case may be. A general summary is given in the following tables:—

	£
Friendly Societies Acts:—
Friendly Societies ...	141,168 000
Other Societies	7,081,000
Industrial Assurance—
Collecting Societies	74,498 000
Companies	317,085,000
Industrial and Provident Societies ...	267,728,000
Building Societies ...	643,292,000
Trade Unions	16,367,000
Workmen's Compensation Schemes ...	38,000
Certified Loan Societies	160,000
Railway Savings Banks	25,357,000
Superannuation and other trust funds	70,536,000
Adjusted Totals...	1,549,945,000

A considerable amount of duplication necessarily arises, the Chief Registrar points out in the figures for membership and funds. A person may be a member of more than one society. He may, for example, be a member of a friendly society, a co-operative society, and a trade union, a shareholder in a building society, and also hold one or more policies in an industrial assurance office.

ADJUSTMENTS MADE

It is not possible in combining the membership figures to attempt any elimination of this duplication. In compiling the funds, however, adjustments have been made, so far as is practicable, to eliminate duplication due to inter-investment and dual registration.

Thus the share capital and deposits of the co-operative wholesale societies (with the exception of certain "private" deposits in the Scottish Co-operative Wholesale Society) are not included in the total figures for industrial and provident societies or in the total figures for all societies, because they represent a reinvestment of funds by the retail societies.

For a somewhat similar reason the amounts outstanding on current and deposit accounts with the Co-operative Wholesale Society's banking department have been omitted from the totals.

INSURANCE RESERVE

The insurance reserve of the Co-operative Insurance Society has been omitted from the total for all societies because it is included in the summary under "Industrial Assurance Companies" as well as under "Industrial and Provident Societies." There still remains a certain amount of duplication, but it cannot be readily eliminated and probably, in relation to the total figures, is small.

The duplication of figures of membership is brought out in the membership totals. Adding all the memberships together the total was 121,262,000. There were 8,227,000 members of friendly societies and 1,076,000 members of other societies registered under the Friendly Societies Acts; 23,816,000 policies in industrial assurance collecting societies and 72,654,000 in industrial assurance companies; 8,983,000 members of industrial and provident societies; 2,011,000 members of building societies; 4,264,000 members of trade unions; 47,000 members of workmen's compensation schemes; 20,000 members of certified loan societies; and 164,000 members of railway savings banks. The number of persons interested in superannuation and other trust funds is not available.

APRIL-JUNE	27-1/4	27-1/2	27-3/4	28	up 1/2

The market opened 1/2 of a cent higher for all deliveries as compared with Tuesday's closing quotations.

In sympathy with better advices received from London and New York the market ruled steady throughout the session. Fair demand for "spot" Rubber by consuming centres induced better enquiries for trade and speculative accounts, although speculators were somewhat hesitant to enter into new engagements on a large scale, preferring to await further developments on the London and New York Exchanges.

After some business having been transacted at quoted rates, prices registered a gradual advance of 1/4 cent for all deliveries on further persistent trade-enquiries. Closing tone was steady.

The Singapore Market will be closed on Thursday, the 24th instant.

Market improved fractionally on moderate general buying.

NEW YORK COTTON

The market opened higher on better Bombay and Liverpool advices, but then reacted on reversal of the trend at Bombay and reports of easiness at Liverpool. Later, prices further declined on Southern hedge-selling and liquidation, whilst the coming holiday also had a restricting influence. The spot and textile markets were quiet and featureless.

NEW YORK RUBBER

Prices advanced on higher cables from London and Singapore; but, in spite of continued reports of steadiness on the foreign markets, trading here was quiet and was mainly characterised by professional operations, with a certain amount of liquidation in evidence.

CHICAGO WHEAT

The market to-day was quiet and prices moved within a narrow range, being influenced by the action of corn prices The latter advanced on scarcity of offerings and influenced new buying and covering on the wheat market.

THEOSOPHICAL SOCIETY

Talk On "Christian Mysticism"

DR. K.L. REICHELT

At the meeting of the Manuk Lodge of the Theosophical Society yesterday, the speaker was Dr. K. L. Reichelt. His subject was "Christian Mysticism."

Dr. Reichelt said in part.

In all the higher religions we have the movement which is styled 'Mysticism.' Like so many other spiritual movements it has its first sources in the old schools of mysticism, the secret schools with their elaborate systems of adoptation and initiation.

Mysticism is found in all the higher religions. In Hinduism it is called Bakhti, the movement which advocates faith, love, and perfect surrender as the real avenue into the profound mysteries of religious experience. We have it in Buddhism in connection with the different branches of the Dhyana schools (the singong in Japan, the mitsong in China and the Red lama society in Tibet).

HIGH ESTEEM

It is very prominent in Muhammedanism, where the Suphi movement is held in such a high esteem. We have it in Zoroastrianism, producing a remarkable host of tender-hearted and spiritual leaders.

No wonder that the same movement is very widespread and significant in the Christian religion.

As to a mystic, the following characteristic may be given: A mystic is one who is not satisfied with the study of the mere physical vehicles and the various phenomena connected with their manifestation.

A TRUE MYSTIC

A mystic is one who wants to get behind the seen into the unseen. He wants to go back of the outer phenomena of life and study their causes. For only so can he really understand their manifestations. A true mystic, therefore, is not a mere dreamer. He is not one who spends his time in idle speculation. Still less is he one who thinks so vaguely that his mind is in a mental mist.

A true mystic is one who seeks the real back of the seeming, the reality back of all manifestations. He knows that back of the many aspects of the life in which we live there is the Inner Life of the Soul, the real self, which is the Real Life.

A Christian mystic is a man who has realized these things and a good deal more through a living faith in Jesus Christ, a man who knows Jesus Christ not only as a principle but as the Revealer of God, the Redeemer and Saviour of humanity and of the whole universe.

NAMOA REVERTS TO CHINA

Japanese All Withdrawn

Swatow, Nov. 24.

The Chinese flag has again been hoisted over Namoa, and not a single Japanese remains on the island.

At the beginning of the South China invasion, the invaders proceeded to destroy all the defences and then withdrew the main garrison to supplement their forces at Bias Bay.

Thirty men were left to guard the island, but these have since also been withdrawn.

The natives have already organised a temporary police force to maintain order, and have sent a request to the Chinese Government for soldiers and civil officials to take over the administration.

Merchants and fishermen on Namoa have resumed their normal activities.—Wah Kiu Yat Po.

ITALY IN ABYSSINIA

London, Nov. 24.

Asked in the House of Commons whether a settlement has been reached by the Italian and Ethiopian governments in accordance with international law, Mr. R. A. Butler, Under-Secretary for Foreign Affairs, stated that according to information the Italian Government had now established control over Ethiopia with the exception of a particular area where it is known that resistance is still being offered.—Reuter.
